H. C. Frick Coke Company Gives $1,600 in County For Japanese Relief Fund

Contribution Is Apportioned About Equally to Three Districts.

MONEY STILL COMING IN

While Campaign Has Been Officially Closed Much Is Yet to Be Reported From Various Parts of the County to Red Cross Headquarters.

Fayette county's Japanese Relief Fund was increased this morning by the sum of $1,600 by a contribution from the H. C. Frick Coke Company, received from Treasurer Philip Keller at the offices of the Red Cross in Uniontown.

The accompanying letter stipulated that the amount be divided among the three districts as follows: Connellsville, $500; Uniontown, $500; Brownsville, $600.

While the campaign has been officially closed, money continues to pour in. Several churches in the county have notified Executive Secretary Walter P. Schenck of the Red Cross that they will take contributions next Sunday. On the whole, however, it is a matter of making returns of sums that have been collected. Letters have been sent to all banks asking that funds be at once reported and the committee is anxious that this be done, in order that the fund may be closed.

While no figures have been given out as to the total raised, it is believed the county will not be far short, if any, of the goal of $20,000 when the last amount is reported.

The congregation of Beth Israel, at the observance yesterday of Yom Kippur, raised $100, which was turned over to Mayor Mitchell and will be transmitted to the Red Cross.

Additional sums reported to committee in Uniontown include the following:

Star Junction and Parkway Methodist Episcopal churches, $87; Little Redstone Presbyterian Church, at Fayette City, $31.70; St. Thomas Catholic Church, Footdale, $47.50; Paradise Evangelical Church, Biltzville, $30; Tower Hill Sunday School, $33.50; Alleluia No. 2, plant of Pittsburgh Steel Company, $75; St. Peter's Catholic Church, Brownsville, $32; First Baptist Church, Connellsville, $174.12; W. N. Leche Company, Connellsville, $20; Eureka Fire Brick Company, Mount Braddock, $25; Reserve Baseball Club, $10; Young Women's Hebrew Association, Uniontown, $10; Brownsville Trust Company, $137; Central Christian Church, Uniontown, $315.25.

Besides these there have been a number of smaller contributions.

JOHN J. SMITH DIES AT DUNBAR; VETERAN FURNACE EMPLOYEE

John J. Smith, 62 years old, veteran employee of the American Magnesium Manufacturing Company at Dunbar and its predecessor, the Dunbar Furnace Company, died Thursday night at his home in Brick Road near the furnace, after an illness of two years. His death came suddenly, however, and unexpectedly. Mr. Smith had been with the two companies for 40 years and for many years had been a member of St. Aloysius Roman Catholic Church. His wife died in 1904. Survivors are the following sons and daughters: Miss Alice E. Smith, at home; Joseph A. Smith and Miss William E. Smith, Cleveland, and Charles V. Smith, at home. He leaves also a sister, Sister Mary Ann, of St. Xavier's Academy at Beatty.

The funeral will be from the home Monday morning at 8:30 o'clock with Requiem Mass at 9 o'clock at St. Aloysius Church. Burial will be in St. Aloysius Cemetery.

ALIBI PRODUCED BY DEFENDANT IN PAYROLL ROBBERY

A complete alibi was presented by Orlando Fabbri, one of the men charged with being implicated in the robbery of Albert Fleming of the payroll for the Allison plant of W. J. Rainey, Inc., March 11, 1922, in testimony of the case today before Judge J. Q. VanSwearingen. Fabbri was charged with assault and battery with intent to rob, and robbery.

John W. Trow, superintendent of the Springer Coal Company's plant along Ton-Mile creek, testified that Fabbri was at work all the day of the robbery. Other employees gave similar testimony and mine records were produced to show that Fabbri was at work.

It was expected the defendant would be acquitted.

Cross-examination of Roy Hughes and his uncle, William Hughes of Dunbar township were also this morning before Judge J. Q. VanSwearingen. The suits were the result of an altercation between George and William Hughes, brothers, over a line fence in which Roy attempted to act as mediator. As a result a stone hurled by his uncle at George struck Roy. According to the evidence the uncle was in the act of picking up another stone when Roy struck him with a shovel his father had been using.

NEW FORMULA OF GERMAN SCIENTIST ELIMINATES FATIGUE

BALTIMORE, Sept. 21.—Both man and beast will be able to work more much harder than they do now and will get fat on it, if a report from Germany proves to be true. Local scientists, such as Dr. William H. Howell of the School of Hygiene of the Johns Hopkins University, are very much interested in the report. This secret, of a revolutionary formula for increasing working power without fatigue is said to be in a chemical formula developed by Prof. Gustav Embden of Frankfurt University. Sodium dihydrogen phosphate is said to have been given to German troops in the form of drink during the war, under conditions arranged by Dr. Embden and the report is that it enabled them to march much farther than their comrades, who had not been given the drink, and without fatigue. Since the war it is said to have been given to coal miners with like result.

Sunday Displeased With Poor Crowds; Is Ready to Quit

By United Press. NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 21.—Billy Sunday, noted evangelist, is ready to quit his campaign here for lack of response to the sawdust trail. He said last night from the pulpit of the new Sunday tabernacle, erected for his use. Rev. Sunday opened here last Sunday what promised to be a six-weeks engagement. "The attendance so far, according to Sunday is the poorest. He has experienced in 20 years' evangelistic work. It is said five ministers will quit their churches here if the Sunday campaign fails.

Fish and Game Local Formed at Furnace Town

Members of the Fayette County Game Protective Association, headed by the president, H. L. Krepps, went to Dunbar Thursday night and organized a local at that place. About 40 men were in attendance. James Smithley was elected a director and H. Miller, secretary and treasurer. Tutions and identification cards were given the members, as were reward notices to be placed throughout the farming district and on streets of the county.

Jasper Augustine Funeral Saturday

L. Minor and J. H. Lyman of Uniontown. The active bearers will be Dr. Fred Shaffer of Somerset, Gilbert Endsley of Somerset, and Nelson Wright, Dillon Bissel, William Miller and Merrill Niekro of Addison.

West Penn Foreman Gets $83,000 by Padding Rolls; Also Three Years in Pen

G. A. Miller Carried Names of 17 Fictitious Persons and Cashed Checks.

WOMEN SHARE IN MONEY

By United Press.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—An amazing system of padding payrolls where by G. A. Miller, a general foreman of the West Penn Power Company obtained $83,000 during a period of eight years was revealed in criminal court today when Miller was sentenced to serve three years and two months in penitentiary.

Miller spent the money on drinks, gambling and women although his wife declared he was careful to come home every evening at the usual time. Miller said he spent the money during the day when he was supposed to be at work.

Company officials explained Miller had charge of 16 gangs working in inaccessible parts of Western Pennsylvania, Maryland and West Virginia and got the money by placing on the payroll a fictitious gang of 17 men, retaining their pay checks when given to him for distribution and forging the endorsements.

Miller, it was revealed, was thorough in his system, even going to the extent of paying fines in the company's benevolent association for the fictitious gang, and in many cases subscriptions of stock in the company were made to be paid out of the wages of the fictitious employees.

Miller formerly was employed by the Fayette County Gas Company here and at Youngwood and went from the gas company to the West Penn. For some time checking up on records has been going on in the local offices of the West Penn.

Fourth Dies After Washington Blast

By United Press. WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The death of another employee of the Bureau of Standards today brought the fatalities caused by a gasoline explosion there to four. James E. Keating, of Salinas, Pa., died early this morning. Urban J. Cook, a machinist, and Stephen Leg of New London, Conn., died last night several hours after the explosion. Logan L. Leuer was instantly killed. Six injured remained in hospitals today. Three are in a serious condition.

Fire Drills at Gibson Schools

The first fire drills in the South Connellsville schools this year were held Wednesday morning. Every High School student was out in 40 seconds and the grades were emptied in one minute and four seconds. The time was considered good, especially as it was the first exercise of such a nature for the students entering the first grade this term. The drills are held under the auspices of the South Connellsville Fire Department. They will be held every two weeks. The exercises are part of the safety work conducted in the schools every year.

Prices of Hard Coal Are Boosted

WILKES-BARRE, Sept. 21.—The looked for increase in the price of domestic anthracite coal at the mines because of the 10 per cent increase in wages under the new contract went into effect today. The new price lists of several large companies show increases ranging from 60 to 90 cents a ton at the mine. The Susquehanna Coal Company increased the price of egg, stove and chestnut coal 60 cents while the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Company increased prices 80 cents on these sizes.

Bulgarian Revolt Reported Broken

LONDON, Sept. 21.—The Bulgarian revolution against Prof. Zankoff's government has been broken, according to the Daily Chronicle's Belgrade correspondent. The Communist-Agrarian movement, which threatened a new regime, has been destroyed and further efforts in that direction are considered remote. The government is engaged in restoring order.

MRS. A. B. DILLNER NEW PRESIDENT OF COUNTY W. C. T. U.

The Fayette County Woman's Christian Temperance Union has a new president. After serving for many years, Mrs. Kate Ritenour of Uniontown declined the office for another term; at the 40th annual convention at Vanderbilt Wednesday and Thursday and Mrs. A. B. Dillner of Uniontown was elected. In recognition of her long and faithful service Mrs. Ritenour was made president emerita.

Mrs. G. B. Roberts of Vanderbilt was chosen vice-president; Mrs. J. M. Stumpf of Uniontown, secretary; Mrs. Mary McVey of Brownsville, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Ira Blair of Perryopolis, treasurer.

Delegates to the state convention at Erie, October 6 to 9, were chosen as follows:

Mrs. Margaret Buttermore and Mrs. J. E. Leber, Connellsville; Mrs. Sarah McVey and Mrs. Margaret List, Marietta; Mrs. J. K. Ritenour and Mrs. J. M. Stumpf, Uniontown; Mrs. Ella Patterson, Vanderbilt; Mrs. Hattie Storey and Mrs. Mary McVey, Brownsville. Mrs. Dillner is a delegate by virtue of her office and Mrs. G. B. Roberts is her alternate.

The convention was attended by 47 delegates, when formed but the nucleus of the daily assembly. Mrs. Ritenour, the president, opened the session. It was said of her that she had not missed more than one of the 40 annual conventions. Mrs. Ella M. George of Weaver Falls, state president, presided at a number of the sessions.

A memorial service for 13 members who died during the year was led by Mrs. Heister Burd of Uniontown.

Mrs. Ross F. Lytle of Connellsville sang at the Thursday afternoon session and led the singing in the forenoon. Miss Thelma Speer of Connellsville was a part on the musical program and Miss Helen Gray, of Connellsville was selected as the place for the 1924 convention.

LEAGUE COWED BY ITALY'S THREATS; MUSSOLINI WINS

By United Press.

GENEVA, Sept. 21.—Premier Mussolini's victory over the League of Nations was made complete today when the assembly approved the action of the council in voting to submit to a commission of international jurists the question of the league's competency in the Greek-Italian dispute.

It was understood until the last minute Italy threatened to quit the league should unfavorable discussion occur. Many delegates wanted to assert the league's competency but were overruled. As far as the league is concerned the question is a closed incident.

Meyersdale Couple Held for Deserting Their Young Babe

MEYERSDALE, Sept. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Maxon of this place were taken to Morgantown, W. Va., yesterday and arraigned in the domestic relations court charged with having abandoned their four months old child which died in the Morgantown Hospital last week. The death of the baby attracted wide interest because of the possibility that it might be Lillian McKee, kidnapped in New York some weeks ago.

The man and woman admitted they were parents of the child and claimed they had intended to return to the hospital for the child after it had recovered. Decision of the court was withheld.

LEGION BEGINS ARMISTICE DAY PREPARATIONS

Bishop Post Will Take Lead in County Celebration on November 11.

L. W. CARPENTER HEAD

The county-wide celebration of Armistice Day will be held in Connellsville this year. Milton L. Bishop Post, No. 301, the American Legion, last night began preparations for putting it across as the most impressive of any held since the end of the World War.

L. W. Carpenter was made general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements and within a few days he will meet the executive committee of the post to name a working committee on the affair.

Various reports were heard, among them being those of the delegates to the state convention. Correll J. Poole, one of the delegates, who was elected to the office of district deputy in this region, spoke of his plans. Communications from Mrs. Warren G. Harding in acknowledgment of the flowers placed on the funeral train here and also of the resolutions drawn up by the post were received.

The post gave $20 to the state department as a contribution to the Japanese Relief Fund being raised by the Legion throughout the country.

The next meeting will be on October 13 at which time officers for the ensuing year will be nominated. The election will take place in November.

The entertainment committee for the next meeting is composed of Joseph Reed, Frank Beatty and Alex Mossaly.

Arthur F. May Dies While on Business Trip to Colorado

Announcement was made today of the death last Sunday at Victor, Colo., of Arthur Francis May, 43 years old, a former resident of Connellsville but more recently of Pittsburgh. Death resulted from trouble of long standing following an operation for appendicitis. At the time Mr. May was in Colorado on a business mission. He was born at Markleton, Somerset county, November 22, 1880, a son of Mr. and Mrs. David May. His father resided at 1225 Sycamore street. His mother is dead.

For a number of years Mr. May was employed by the J. R. Davidson Company. Later he was a brakeman and then a baggage-master for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company and then engaged in the mercantile business in Pittsburgh. He married Miss Fannie Morris of Pittsburgh, who survives, with a son, Robert, eight years old. He leaves also a sister, Mrs. Minnie Mitchell, of 1125 Sycamore street, and a brother, Ross D. May, of Dunbar.

The body will arrive in Connellsville Sunday morning and be taken to the Ricksberger home. Burial will be Monday in Hill Grove Cemetery in charge of Funeral Director Charles Mitchell.

Governor Walton Counts On Military Probe of Klan To Frustrate Impeachment

150 ROTARIANS ENTERTAINED AT PLEASANT VALLEY

The Connellsville and Scottdale Rotary clubs Thursday were hosts to 150 Rotarians from many points in Fayette and Westmoreland counties. A program of various events was carried out at the Pleasant Valley Country Club during the afternoon and evening.

Rain interfered somewhat with the outdoor sports but the golf enthusiasts finished their matches and the gun shoot was also completed. In the shooting match Dr. J. L. Cochran was high but as he was chairman of the committee it did not count. Carl Capita of Greensburg won the prize, a handsome pocket-knife. His score was 17 out of 25. Frank Robb was second with 15 and James Campbell of Scottsdale third with 13.

The regularly scheduled baseball games was not played but some of the old-timers tagged out for the contest, could not be denied their fun and they engaged in a game of "scrub." Others who did not prefer the wet outdoors played set-back on the porch.

Dinner was served at 7 o'clock. G. Frank Kelly, president of the Scottsdale Rotary Club, presided and made the address of welcome. James G. Blinn, president of the Rotary Club in Uniontown, responded. Rev. "Dick" Aspinwall, as he is known to Rotary, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church at Terra Alta, W. Va., delivered the principal address.

The membership of six clubs was well represented at the affair. Between courses singing was led by Earl Chamberlain and Jack Farrell of Uniontown. Solos were sung by Homer Dunn of Latrobe, Carl T. Anselmo and Kiefer's Orchestra furnished music.

Wed at 200, Live Doctor's Prophecy

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—People will soon be able to live 200 years or so, and can determine beforehand just what their children shall be, according to Dr. Alkanon Ira Lucet, president of the American Drugless Association, in convention at the Hotel Pennsylvania, yesterday.

In an address to his fellow doctors, Dr. Lucet declared with confidence, that the pre-determination of sex in ones children was the simplest of propositions and, in his experience, quite 100 per cent successful. He also said pre-determination of vocation in children was almost as simple.

As to longevity Dr. Lucet said that, in the near future a span of 200 years would be nothing extraordinary and that couples would begin to think of getting married when aged 200.

After 50 Years at Dunbar Thomas Hicks Moves to Ohio Town

After living at Dunbar for 50 years Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hicks have gone to Akron, Ohio, to live. They left yesterday and will maintain a home of their own, though a son, Emmett, and a daughter, Mrs. J. L. Galvin, live in the same city.

Last July Mr. and Mrs. Hicks celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage, with their eight children, among whom is Mrs. Robert S. Cooper of Connellsville.

Wyano Man Robbed Of $350 in Cash

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21.—Michael Rabeck, 61 years old, of Wyano, was held up and robbed of $350 by three men who attacked him last night as he was walking in River avenue, near the Eleventh Street bridge. One of the men, struck Rabeck, the second held him and the third stole his wallet.

Pedestrians heard Rabeck's screams for help and called North Side police who found Rabeck running about the bridge. He was taken to Allegheny General Hospital, where his condition was said not to be serious.

Pardon in Sight For Wm. S. Lieb

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21.—The announcement was made by Attorney General Wondraff of the recommendation for pardon of William S. Lieb, Schuylkill county political leader, convicted of forging tax receipts and who has been serving a term of from three to five years in the penitentiary.

Contribution Acknowledged

Correll J. Poole, finance officer of Milton L. Bishop Post, of the American Legion, today received a letter of acknowledgment of a contribution of $20 by the post to the American Legion's national fund for Japanese relief. It came from the national treasurer.

Work of Court Being Speeded to Arouse Sentiment in Oklahoma and Nation.

KLAN OFFICIAL SPEAKS

Governor's Campaign One of Character Assassination, Grand Dragon Declares, Asserting Truth Will Be Brought Out "In the Washing."

By United Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 21.—The military court investigating operations of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma county speeded up examination of witnesses in hope of completing its work before the special session of the legislature, called to impeach Governor Jack Walton, meets next Wednesday.

The governor hopes that by uncovering sufficient testimony involving the Klan and its members in lawless acts that the public sentiment of the state and the nation will support his stand and oppose the impeachment action. In making public sensational testimony obtained by the military court, the governor declared: "If necessary I will arm every man in the state who is opposed to the inviolable empire."

The testimony made public includes declarations by Dr. A. A. Maupin, a dentist and a Klan member, who said that M. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma Klan, had admitted to him that he wielded the lash in a flogging. He quoted Jewett as saying: "I want you to understand I am the man who layed it on. I led that party. I held the whip and put it on his back and made him confess."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 21.—The evidence gathered by the military court investigating the Ku Klux Klan and made public by Governor Jack Walton was characterized today as "attempts as libel on character assassination by M. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Oklahoma Klan. Jewett said:

"The governor is warring on the Klan in a supreme effort, making his political existence in a desperate effort to regain favor in the state. It will all come out in the wash. At present the governor is in the line of light but whether he will hold it is another question. Under the present martial law conditions the law said the better."

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 21.—Famous two-gun men of the Southwest were in Oklahoma City today to back up Governor Walton in his fight against the Ku Klux Klan. Among those observed in the lobby of local hotels were:

"Buck" Garrett, old-time territorial gunman from Ardmore; "Bill" Ward, a companion of "Bud" Bailey, a two-gun man who was killed in a battle with a Texas ranger; "Uncle Foot" Dillard and his son, "Cub," famous Indian fighter; Nash Milikan, who was decorated by General Pershing for extraordinary bravery during the World War; Zack Mulhall of the famous Mulhall family. His father was a federal marshal and his sister the noted Lucille Mulhall, who made her fame as a rider in Wild West shows where Zack exhibited his skill with guns.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 21.—"If there ever was a time since 1776 that red-blooded Americanism should assert itself, this is the time," Oklahoma's "Patrick Henry" declared today.

"Patrick Henry" is the name his fellow legislators have applied to W. B. McBee, an obscure country lawyer who has become the leader of a "revolution" against Governor Walton's drastic military rule in Oklahoma.

Here in the state capital where machine guns frown down upon the streets and martial law prevails McBee has defied Governor Walton by calling a special session of the legislature to impeach him.

"We have called the legislature together," McBee said, "for an impartial investigation of the existence of conditions in this state that are in direct opposition to the principles for which our forefathers fought. The legislature will try the issue as a court. We intend to be impartial, fair and honest. We shall be governed by the fact that the inquiry discloses. We shall be just as ready to exonate as to condemn."

"The men who have issued this call represent no particular class, faction, religion or party. We stand united and determined to uphold the principles of the government of, for and by the people. The governor has threatened to throw us in jail. Very well, I would be in jail rather than part with our ideals of American liberty."

"The legislature will meet. The investigation will be made. And our consciences will be our guide and the preservation of American liberty our subject."

Mrs. E. A. Dunham III. Mrs. L. A. Dunham, widow of the late J. R. Dunham, Civil War veteran, is very ill at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mrs. Walter Sheering, of South Connellsville.

Was a Good Judge of Liquor

"Since a young man I had a liking for liquor and was considered a pretty good judge of it at one time, but constant drinking gave me stomach trouble which became chronic. My stomach would have been a valuable addition to a gas factory. Doctors did not seem to relieve me. One day my druggist got me to try Myer's Wonderful Remedy, and I am now as good as new." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince you money refunded. A. A. Clarke and druggists everywhere. Advertisement.

This Nine-Piece American Walnut Dining Room Suite—Now..... $195

Fashioned from select American walnut—after the dainty Queen Anne design. The Buffet measures 60 inches, has lined silverware drawer and a large plate mirror. The oblong Extension Table measures 45x54 inches while the China Cabinet is proportionately large. The Host Chair and five Diners are upholstered in genuine leather.

High Quality at Low Prices!

To simply quote low prices alone means very little or nothing—but to quote such prices on Furniture, Rugs, Stoves and Homefurnishings of good, dependable quality—that is quite another story.

Because it is our firm belief that the only real bargain is that one which gives you dependable quality—merchandise that will give long-lasting service and complete satisfaction—at a price that really is low.

And we are sure that if you will put this test to any article in our complete stocks—you will have the superiority of our values impressed upon you in a most convincing fashion. Come in and see for yourself!

Massive Over-stuffed Rockers $19.75

These Rockers are fully as comfortable as they look—and at this low price they represent remarkable values. Can be had in choice of black or brown imitation leather upholstery.

Dainty Mahogany Library Tables $24.50

Very similar to the illustration shown—these Tables are one of the newest designs which we have just placed on our floors. They are attractively fashioned and finished in a rich mahogany.

Solid Mahogany Spinet Desks $29.75

This is the type of desk which has been in good taste since the days of the early Pilgrim Fathers. Has a large writing top and plenty of separate compartments for writing materials.

Genuine Wilton Rugs are Now Featured at Unusually Low Prices!

When you buy a genuine Wilton—you'll have a Rug for your Home that will give a lifetime of service and satisfaction. Our stock of genuine Wiltons is now exceptionally large and the prices are pleasingly low.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEP. 21, 1935.

REPUBLICANS MUST BE ON THEIR GUARD

Republicans must be alert on their guard between now and the November election against the insidious efforts the Democrats and their organs will make, and already are making, to foment strife and divisions in the party. Because there were several warlike contests between Republican candidates at the primary, the Democrats will do their utmost to create the impression that every defeated candidate and all his or her friends will now join hands with the Democrats to encompass the defeat of the Republican nominees at the general election.

By an other means can the Democrats hope to elect any part of their ticket. Being numerically much weaker than the Republicans, what they thus lack they will seek to supply by every means known to tricky politicians in an attempt to win Republicans away from the support of their ticket.

This is so threadbare a scheme of Democrats in Fayette county that no Republican should allow himself or herself to be caught by it. Its object now, as always, is to inveigle Republicans into voting for Democratic candidates, not as a compliment or as a means of gratifying their wish to make a good showing in their respective neighborhoods, but to elect them to office in place of their Republican opponents.

In accordance with its principles and time honored custom to allow the members of the party to exercise free choice of candidates, the Republicans presented an open field to candidates. Whomever felt inclined was permitted to enter the race. That a number of candidates did so, and each conducted a more or less vigorous campaign and enlisted voters in their support, is a wholesome sign that Republicans are making a very active interest in elections, which is proof of their good citizenship. That sharp contests would develop was a matter of course, but the campaign as a whole was fairly conducted and, after the first disappointment of defeat, it is forgotten all will join hands in putting the ticket across in November.

This will be made less certain, however, in proportion as Republicans yield to the enticements and allurements, or listen to the misrepresentations and falsehoods the Democrats will industriously employ between now and November.

The Democratic ticket creates no enthusiasm in the rank and file of that party having been hand-picked by the bosses in advance of the primaries, leaving to the voters no alternative but to vote for the candidates thus selected or remain away from the polls. That many did the latter is shown by the small vote cast.

As contrasted with the Republican ticket there is nothing in the Democratic line-up to appeal to Republicans. Recognizing this the tactics of the Democrats will be to play up the alleged irreconcilable differences in the ranks of the Republicans, distorting the facts when not plainly misrepresenting or falsifying them with a view to engendering discord among Republicans. To all such seductions every Republican ought to turn a deaf ear knowing, as they do, that the object is to elect Democratic, not Republican, candidates.

In the matter of supporting candidates for nomination for county commissioner both Republicans and Democrats of Northern Fayette evidently believed the best way to divide the honors was to give all to Uniontown and the near vicinity.

In the nomination of Mrs. Margaret Carroll Wolf for city treasurer the voters showed that when they concentrate their forces the calculations of the male political dogsters are very much upset.

The primary being over the primary duty of voters is now to get down to the business of being good citizens.

Coal Commission's Inconclusive Report

Cleveland Metal Trade

The portion of the partial report to President Coolidge of the federal coal commission which has been made public refers especially to labor conditions and relations. The report, preliminary to the final report which is expected to be made when the commission's life expires next Saturday by limitation, makes rather curious reading—certainly not conclusive of anything. We withdraw that latter statement because it is conclusive of what the coal buyers and the public have believed, i.e., that a sufficient supply of coal can be mined and sold to the consumer at a reasonable price and yet conditions at mines and in the operators' mills not be unreasonable. The report says just that in so many words, but it does not succeed in pointing just exactly how this Utopian condition of the coal trade can be brought to pass. Maybe it will tell us just how in its final report.

Such portions of the long report as have been digested do not carry a great deal of hope to the consumer. Neither does it to the earnest operator nor the non-union miner. It must be remembered the non-union miner kept this country from freezing to death following the coal strike two years ago. But in this report he gets little enough attention. On the other hand, pages are devoted to pointing out how the mine operator and the union might better function together. Evidently the commission believes the miner's union actually has the country by the throat and nothing can be done about it—or very little.

The diffuse report cannot arouse a great deal of enthusiasm in coal trade circles. It likely will be filed away among archives among the "interesting" documents of the day and promptly forgotten. Action the one thing demanded by the coal trade, the public and the miners, seems to be lacking. However something like that was predicted last spring when the commission sent out its enormous questionnaire. What's the use?

Prize and Praise for Avoiding the Trenches

Christian Science Monitor.

Whether the achievement of Jack Dempsey in boxing Luis Firpo into insensibility in three minutes and fifty-seven seconds after having warmly shaken hands with him was more or less glorious than the feat of Mussolini, who bombarded a defenseless island, killing a number of orphan children, is a problem worthy of some consideration. Of the two incidents, the prize fight gets on the whole the more attention in the American press.

We fear that some 90,000 people—all that the arena would hold—were present, and the gate-money is variously estimated at from $1,500,000 to $1,500,000—about as much, at the present rate of exchange, as Mussolini is attempting to collect from the Greeks. The gladiatorial contest in New York was far more in its nature, involving a resident of the Argentine and a citizen of the United States—although the citizenship of the latter was not so warmly prized as to lead him to fight with the American soldiers in the World War.

Some hundreds of thousands of Yankee doughboys who did their duty in that world-racking struggle must wonder at the national temperament that leaves them to shift as best they may for a livelihood, while giving $500,000 and unbounded adulation to a pugilist who carefully avoided the trenches.

Just Folks

Edgar A. Guest.

THE EFFORT.
When man has done his level best,
I fancy God is satisfied.
He need not be in splendor dressed,
Known north and south and east and west.
No tread the paths of pride;
If he is earnest in the test,
God knows how hard he tried.

Not all the good men rise to fame,
Nor all the kings are crowned.
Full many a long forgotten name
Has borne life's battle but to claim
An unremembered mound.
And none from men have suffered blame
When God no fault has found.

'Tis splendid to do the splendid deed,
'Tis sweet to reach the goal.
But oft the dreams of men may lead
Them past their strength, to fall and bleed.

And failure signs the scroll.
But 'tis not said we must succeed
To make the perfect soul.

When man has done his level best,
I fancy God is satisfied.
Though night shall find him sore-distressed,
Heed not, by men upbraided,
God knows how cruel the test
And just how hard he tried.

Anglo-French Solidarity Cause German Surrender

By United Press

PARIS, Sept. 21.—Premier Poincaré has won a great victory and Anglo-French solidarity is restored, the Paris newspapers declared today in commenting on the German offer to surrender.

A marked change in the attitude of England is noted following publication of Germany's peace offer, made through the Belgian minister to Berlin.

Other papers declared it was Anglo-French solidarity that caused Germany to capitulate.

"Either way around," Portinari, writing in the Echo de Paris says, "time is working for France. Franco-Belgian unity is stronger than ever. Germany's 'dislocation' will be evidenced shortly, and she will be forced to recognize her defeat."

BERLIN, Sept. 21.—Premier Poincaré of France is the stumbling block which prevents acceptance of the latest German proposals for evacuation of the Ruhr as made through the Belgian minister Wednesday, according to belief of persons who are kept informed of the negotiations.

These sources, said Chancellor Stresemann, first attempted to get the French ambassador to transmit the proposals, but he refused when he learned that Germany attached conditions, declaring only unconditional surrender would suffice.

Stresemann then approached the Belgian minister who agreed to transmit the offer which the German reactionary group claims amounts to practically complete capitulation.

The French ambassador in refusing to transmit the proposals, pointed out that Poincaré repeatedly stated that only unconditional surrender would suffice, hence the German proposal ordering abandonment of passive resistance in the Ruhr on the condition that expelled German citizens would be allowed to return to their homes and those imprisoned freed, was not acceptable.

Oscar Underwood Now Is Opposed to League of Nations

By United Press.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Senator Oscar W. Underwood of Alabama, an avowed candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, has had a change of heart toward the League of Nations, he admits Underwood, on his way to Washington after a hunting and fishing trip in the Wisconsin woods, stopped in Chicago long enough last night to state he was no longer a strong advocate of the league.

"My original views are well known, but I have been to Europe and seen the league at work and my attitude is changed," he said. "The failure of the league to function in the dispute between Italy and Greece has had much to do with the change."

Underwood would not say whether he intended to champion an anti-league platform in the presidential fight.

Code Argument Hearing Postponed.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21.—Illness of Judge Shaw of Pottsville, chief counsel for State Treasurer Snyder, was given as the reason today for seeking postponement of the argument scheduled for tomorrow in the court action on the administrative code. The case was postponed by the court until next Friday. Attorney General Woodruff acquiesced to the request for deferment.

PROPRIETOR IS HELD

Special to The Courier.
 MOUNT PLEASANT, Sept. 21.—At a hearing before Justice of the Peace L. S. Rhodes, last evening 20 young men who had been caught in the raid on the Graham pool room on Saturday evening were discharged for lack of evidence. George Graham, proprietor of the pool room, was held. The Weinman hearing was postponed until this evening.

Motor Truck Stolen.
 The furniture store of Sam Levin was closed yesterday on account of Yom Kippur. Last evening when Mr. Levin went to the shed where he kept his automobiles, a truck was missing.

Independents Reorganize.
 The Mount Pleasant Independent football team has reorganized for the coming season and will play Cumberland on September 30. The independents are asked to get in touch with Frank O. Stahl, 604 Main street.

Fretzel Juniors Getting Ready.
 The basketball team under the name of Fretzel Junior A. C. is reorganizing. Practice has been going on for three weeks. Some good material is being tried out in games with the old players, who are staying in the game. Such men as Ed. Millitch, Shaw, C. Stahl, W. Stahl and Ridgely will be at their old positions. Some good games are to be played at the armory. A marshalltown loan and welfare road is being planned for the 27th at the Mifflin grounds. The boys say that Mount Pleasant never had a junior team which created so much excitement.

Students Form Team.
 The eighth grade boys of the First Ward School have organized a football team. James Hatfield was chosen manager and Navin A. Cori assistant manager. In the lineup are Frank Millin, James Hatfield, Norin Cori, Ralph Brier, Thomas Easton, Robert Morrison, Anthony Nicolette, Arthur Jaquette, Ralph McGowan and Wilford Larkin, with Clifford Farmer, William Nixon and William Simmons as subs.

Personal Mention.

Local Anaesthesia in Abdominal Operations Advocated by Surgeons

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—The use of a local anesthetic in abdominal operations instead of ether was strongly favored by Dr. R. E. Farr of Minneapolis, yesterday in a speech which he made at a meeting of the American Association of Obstetricians, Gynecologists and Abdominal Surgeons, held at the farm of Dr. W. Wayne Babcock, in Rydal. As an anesthetic of this sort, Dr. Farr spoke of novocain. In commemoration of the thirty-sixth year of the organization, seventy-five members had gathered for a three-day conference.

"I have found there is a distinct advantage in using the local anesthetic," said Dr. Farr. "The after-effects, which are produced by ether, are not present and the patient has better self-control; there is no nausea and the patient is not forced to move about. The local anesthetic has been used in operations for septis and appendicitis with marked success for several months by Dr. Farr, who is nationally known for such work."

An attack against the surgeons, who he declared are too "artistic," was launched by Dr. Robert T. Morris. "There are too many in the practice who forget about the patient and work on a theory of 'art for art's sake,'" he said. "A nice operation does not necessarily mean that it is a practical one. Nature should be permitted to do some of the work. Some of the men are under the impression that they are taxidermists. They begin to explore and the more they see the more operating they want to do."

According to the statistics of Dr. George Clark Mosher of Kansas City, the United States ranks fourteenth in needless loss of life due to childbirth. The death rate here is exceeded only in Spain and Belgium. In addition, the report states, there has been no decrease in maternal mortality in the country since 1900.

"Sixteen thousand women die in travail each year," the report states. "Seventy-five hundred deaths are the result of child bed-fever, a disease which Oliver Wendell Holmes, in 1845, showed was preventable."

Typhoid fever and diphtheria mortality has been cut in half, according to the report, and the loss of life from tuberculosis has been markedly reduced.

Reminders

Now is the right time to get prepared for Winter. Don't wait till the snow falls but make your purchases now.

One of the most important items is heat. No doubt you have an old fashioned gas stove that you have used for years. Does it give satisfactory service? Does it keep the room warm? Does it consume a minimum amount of gas? Ask yourself these questions. If it does all these things you are fortunate indeed. If it does not see Zimmerman's. They have the heater you need.

Sun Glow is the name of this wonderful heater. It does everything the old-fashioned stove failed to do. It heats the room thoroughly—it uses only a small amount of gas—and it gives service that is satisfactory in every respect.

The Sun Glow has withstood numerous rigid meter and combustion tests, and has proven its merit as a safe, efficient and economical heater. (It consumes on an average of 13½ to 15 cu. ft. of natural gas per hour, depending of course upon the gas pressure.)

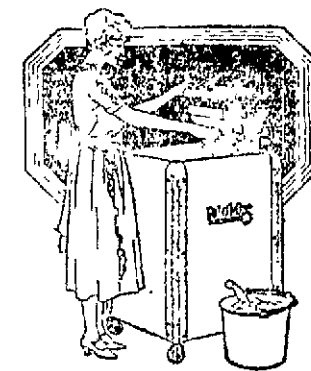

The many thousands of Sun Glows that have been placed in homes all over the country where they are giving general satisfaction is positive proof that the Sun Glow is all that we claim for it.

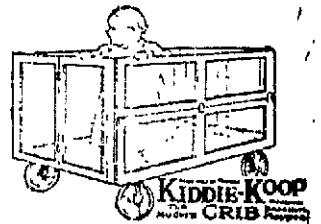

A Luxuriously Overstuffed Living Room Suite for..... $249

Here is an example of the wonderful values offered every day at Zimmerman's. This suite is beautifully upholstered in a high grade velour. It consists of a long davenport, rocker and an English Fireside chair. All pieces are massively made and spring seat construction is used throughout. The kind of a suite you want to own as soon as you sit down on it—and a suite that will add tone to any home.

Pal O' Mine Electric Washers

The Pal O' Mine Electric Washer is the latest word in washer construction. Entirely enclosed in a handsome enameled cabinet it acts as a piece of furniture when not in use. Especially adapted to small apartments where every inch counts. No home should be without an electric washer, but before you select yours—see the Pal O' Mine. You'll be surprised at the simplicity of operation as well as its low cost.

Ribbons Play Part on New Hats From Paris

On most of the new hats not one but many ribbons are used as trimming. As many as a dozen different kinds of ribbon may appear on one small hat. The elaborate embroidery designs of the season require narrow ribbons of many kinds and many colors to achieve the desired rich effect. Frequently a wide soft ribbon is used to fold around the edge of the brim or to make a bow in the back, or streamers swinging in odd lengths from under the edge of the brim. In fact, the new hats which New York's most renowned millinery importers have brought back from Paris are a marvel in intricacy of design and elaborateness of trimming. For the most part they are made entirely of ribbons, and those that are made of other material are richly embroidered or applied with narrow colorful ribbons and ribbon flowers.

Find Many Uses for White Sand in Home

The uses of white sand—yes, white sand—in a home are varied, and while not otherwise known, very useful.

Clean white sand placed in the bottom of Chinese lanterns will partly stop their smearing and hence lessen the danger from lighting.

Sand and warm water will quickly cleanse milk bottles, fruit jars or other glass containers to reach the interior of which is difficult.

Sand is kept in many homes to scour the floor of the kitchen. Heated bags of sand are used instead of hot-water bottles.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

A Helpful Hint.
 "I don't know what in the thunderation is the matter with my wife!" grumbled Cap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "She's everlastingly asking me for money to buy a new dress with or a bunnet, or some such fool thing." "I thought my giving her a little money some time, and see if it would make a plumb fool of her," suggested an acquaintance.—Kansas City Star.

My Unknown Friends

By Grace E. Hall

I know that somewhere you exist,
 And that you understand,
 Though I may never see your face,
 Nor grasp you by the hand;
 Though you may never speak one word
 In voicing thoughts we share,
 Yet I shall know, where'er I go,
 Your understanding rare.

I know, somehow, that you are touched
 Through sense of ear and eye,
 By plaintive, thrilling melody,
 By gorgeous sunset sky;
 That oft your heart is filled with pain
 That still is ecstasy,
 That, as by wine that's aged and fine,
 You're thrilled by sky and sea.

I know, somehow, that in a crowd
 You oft are lone and drear,
 That few there be who know and see
 Life, as you find it, here;
 Not oft you meet with those whose souls
 Are en rapport quite true,
 And oh, the sting when others sing
 So out of tune with you!

CONSCIENCE FUND KEEPS INCREASING

Tax Dodgers Have Given U. S.
Over Half Million Dollars.

DONATION MADE TO ROAD

Since one September morning in 1911, when an astonished clerk in the United States Treasury discovered a crisp $5 note in the morning's mail, along with an anonymous letter from a "Conscience Fund" has always been, undiminished—and well supported. The chief contributors to this fund, year after year, have somehow managed to escape the sure of the federal fowler, only to be caught later in the toils of the secret service agent commonly known as our conscience, says a Washington dispatch.

It was Franklin who said that nothing in this world is certain but death and taxes. The federal fund which is credited to conscience, and which now amounts to considerably more than half a million dollars, suggests that quite a few people try to slide step the latter certainty only to find that the cost of dishonesty is unsharp pines.

Gifts From 2 Cents to $30,000. Amounts have been mailed to Washington ranging all the way from 2 cents to $30,000. One man returned his original defalcation four-fold in imitation of the publican Zacchaeus. A London vicar once sent Uncle Sam the sum of $14,255.15, the money having been entrusted to him by a traveling American who had been converted in his chapel and who wanted to "square himself" and thus ease his troublesome conscience.

But the most recent case is rather different from any of these. A few days ago a man with a hunted look stepped up to the ticket agent at the railroad station at Uniontown, Pa., and asked what the fare was from Greensburg to Scottsdale. When told that it was exactly 53 cents he deposited two quarters and three coppers and went away happy. For, like the village blacksmith, he could now look the whole world in the face for he owed not any man. At least that was what he seemed to think, for, as he explained to the surprised agent, he had lost a conductor out of that amount just 30 years ago by failing to pay his fare at the time.

Few Feel They Owe Roads. It is not indicated in the news dispatch that there is any likelihood of the railroad company opening a "Conscience Fund" for future prodigies of the kind. It wouldn't pay. There are not enough people, who patronize the railroads, who ever feel that they owe anything to a corporation which charges "all the traffic will bear." They may be all wrong in this, but their consciences seldom worry them, railroad officials say. Most people, it is said, are tempted to forward a misadventure to a railroad company, would probably do so in the name of Bill Nye, who used to write to his creditors, "Enclosed please find $2, on account—if you can."

THOUSANDS OF WAR BOOKS

Eight Thousand Volumes Written by Americans Alone.

Americans are writing about the war and the peace to such an extent that an American room will be established when the French war library and museum in Paris are moved into permanent quarters at the Chateau de Vincennes next year. There are already 8,000 volumes by Americans and the Museum boasts that it has one of the finest collections of American war posters.

Germany, too, have been busy writing about the war. The war books, price 25,000 volumes. Price comes next.

This institution was set up by the government to develop the work started by a wealthy Frenchman who, early in the war, began assembling war documents.

MUST SPEAK ITALIAN

Maltese Government Orders Instruction of Children in Language.

On account of a large Italian population the British naval base of Malta exhibits many problems for the British government as does Tunis for the French government for the same reason. Although the French population in Tunis is 50,000, against the Italian population of 100,000, the Italian language is not officially recognized there and Italian schools are supported either by the Italian government or by subscriptions and fees.

In Malta a new law has been approved, which makes obligatory instruction in Italian as well as in English.

In 1922, 95 per cent of the parents chose English for their children in the primary schools.

RUSSIAN GRAIN TO GERMANY

400,000 Tons Thus Far Exported, Hamburg Reports Show.

Russia has exported 600,000 tons of grain so far this year, according to statistics issued at Hamburg, where Germany has taken over two-thirds. Before the war Russia exported about 8,000,000 tons of grain. The entire exports for this year are estimated between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 tons.

Light Inquiry Creates Dullness in Market And Slight Price Softening

Natural Reaction From the Anthracite Settlement, Not a Slump.

ONLY SLIGHT DECLINES

For Furnace and Foundry, the Blackest Drop Being in Heating Which Had Made Sharpest Advance; Light Buy; Ing at Furnace, $1.75 Asking Price.

From The Weekly Courier. PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19.—The coke market has been very dull in the past week, inquiry being light for all descriptions of coke, heating, furnace and foundry. Prices have naturally softened, but there is nothing like a slump.

The dullness represents chiefly a natural reaction from the anthracite settlement, as the anthracite dispute had previously given the coke market a special stimulus, from the effects of which it must recover. There was extra buying of foundry coke in August and probably some extra buying of furnace coke, which did not increase the actual consumption a particle, and consumers must now clean up this extra coke.

A contributing factor to the coke market dullness is the less favorable view of the future now being taken in the iron and steel trade. There have been no concrete developments of an unfavorable nature that would count for much, but there is a complete failure in the iron and steel markets to verify predictions made, probably unwisely, that there would be a noteworthy improvement in demand this month, following what is called "the summer dullness." At any rate, sentiment in the iron and steel trade is noticeably less hopeful than it was at the beginning of the month.

While furnace and foundry grades of coke have merely declined slightly, heating coke has had a sharp decline, naturally enough seeing that it had had a very sharp advance, from less than $4.00 at the end of July to a full level of $4.75 just before the anthracite agreement was made. There was buying by eastern dealers, as an anthracite substitute, and there was extra buying by the usual consumers, in fear that prices would go higher still, with the anthracite mines closed. Now the eastern buying is stopped, while the regular buyers are disposed to grow gloom while the market is being squallied again. Heating coke is now quotable at $4.00 to $4.25, but the ordinary buyer could probably do $4.00 without difficulty.

It is held in the trade that coke plants that produce heating coke, or what is frequently called "medium sulphur coke," not suitable for iron metallurgical work, will have to curtail production, but as that takes time there may be excess production for a while.

In furnace coke there has been very light buying and all consumers are showing a very reserved attitude. They could hardly take any other position, since they cannot sell pig iron any distance ahead and see no reason why they should buy coke in a different way. As a result there is little interest in fourth quarter contracts. While several consumers contracted for the current quarter, so that there will be contracts expiring this month, and other furnaces have been buying from hand to mouth during the quarter, not a few furnaces have gone out or will go by October 1, so that the amount of business to be removed is not very large. While quotations have been made for fourth quarter and for October the general tendency seems to be to buy for shorter periods, practically spot or prompt coke.

The usual asking price for spot or prompt furnace coke is $4.75, but on some brands of coke this price could be shaded. One who is reported at $4.50 but that would not make a standard, and the market is best quoted as being easy at $4.75. On extended delivery operators would quote higher prices if asked for quotations.

Foundry coke has been in light demand, chiefly because many foundries bought a little bit ahead in August and are now disposed to go easy in the matter of making additional commitments. Prices have been gradually softening, but are off only about 25 cents in the whole week, leaving the market well above the level from which the recent advance started. While the market seems to show a declining tendency, a continuance of the present rate of consumption would probably bring more buyers into the market in the next few weeks so that it is merely a guess whether prices will advance or decline from the present level.

While the buying is light there is enough to show where prices stand. The best brands generally bring $5.25, while some very good brands can be had at $5.00, and coke that merely grades as standard 72-hour selected foundry can generally be had at $5.75. There is so-called "foundry" coke offered at less but it would not really pass as standard. The spot or prompt market is quotable as follows:

|--------------|-----------------|
| Furnace coke | $4.75          |
| Foundry coke | $5.75 @ $6.25 |

The Pittsburgh district coal market has been decidedly quiet in the past week. Operators being fairly well sold up for the time being are not pressing sales to any extent but it is frankly admitted that it is not easy to sell coal. Consumption is still large and very likely there will be considerably more stocking, so that there should be a good demand. Pittsburgh district steam mine-run is quotable at $2.15 to $2.25, with gas lump at about $2.75 to $2.90.

The pig iron market continues quiet, but prices have lost none of their steadiness. All consumers are now committed to a policy of buying from hand to mouth and not a few still have some stocks in liquidation. A factor in determining the attitude of consumers is the stocks that have accumulated at merchant furnaces during the past few months. The consumers feel that whenever they want iron it will be easy to secure it. There is practically no call for basic iron at the moment. Two sales of 500 tons each and several smaller transactions are reported in Des Moines. The Valley sales were all at the regular figure of $26.50, but one sale by the Johnstown producer was at 50 cents less. Foundry iron shows a very moderate movement, the latest transaction of any size being the purchase of 1,500 tons by a sanitary ware interest, which was at $25, Valley. The market in general is unchanged, and indeed basic has been at its present level since the first week of July. Prices are as follows:

|------------|---------|
| Des Moines | $26.50 |
| Basic      | $26.50 |
| Foundry    | $25.00 |
| Merchant   | $25.00 |

These prices are f. o. b. Valley, furnaces, freight to Pittsburgh being $1.75.

LIGHTER BUYING OF ALL LINES OF STEEL; VIEW LESS SANGUINE

Expected Sharp Market Activity Has Not Materialized; September Running Below Average.

From The Weekly Courier. NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review this steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows: Buying of steel products is somewhat lighter all along the line, except that there has been a fairly heavy movement in the plate. Practically the entire steel trade takes a less sanguine view of the future than it did two or three weeks ago and there is in fact a very decided change in sentiment. This change in attitude cannot be due chiefly to the volume of buying, for there has not been much decrease. It is due rather to disappointment that there has not been a sharp increase in market activity. This expectation was based on the notion that there is a general rule for the steel market to be quiet in July and August and active in September. There is no such rule, and never was. Individual steel commodities, cotton ties and stove-pipe, sizes of black sheets, for instance, have their seasons, but steel as a whole is active when it wants to be active and quiet when it wants to be quiet, without consulting the calendar.

There are some differences of opinion as to which was the most active and which the least active of the three dull months, June, July and August. The distinction at best would be small, while September is perhaps running below the average of the three. At any rate there are more mills now than two or three months ago in need of new business to maintain operations, and that is the important fact. Incoming business has been running well below shipments. Steel production, which has lately been the measure of the amount of steel buyers will accept, has been decreasing continuously since April, the decrease to date being more than 16 per cent. The decrease will probably proceed somewhat more rapidly in the next few weeks, but this will not be a new trend, merely an increase in the slope of the production curve. Steel prices are very well maintained, the dullness of the market furnishing increased incentive to mills to disturb the price structure, now five months old.

The iron prices continue practically steady even though buying is light.

Anthracite Mine Fire Burns 65 Years

HAZELTON, Sept. 19.—A new effort will be started shortly to extinguish the burning anthracite coal mines at Summit Hill and save the veins not already destroyed by the fire which has raged there for more than 65 years.

The Drake Drilling company plans to sink 10-inch holes into the burning mines through which culm will be flushed. This will at least cut off air channels through which the fire might reach the Nesquehoning workings, as the flames have recently advanced out near between the Summit Hill No. 6 colliery and the Nesquehoning.

Absorbs Two Companies.

The Wilbur Coal Mining Company of Johnstown, has absorbed two other coal companies in the Cambria-Somerset district; the new company having a capital of $1,173,666.67.

AS MANY INVESTORS IN COAL COMPANIES AS ARE EMPLOYEES

Estimated Stockholders Alone Total 360,000; Still More Own Bonds

EXCLUDING ANTHRACITE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The number of individuals who have their money at stake in the coal business is probably greater than the number of employees in that business, the United States Coal Commission was informed in a memorandum submitted by the Bituminous Operators' Special Committee.

The memorandum is supplementary to a brief previously filed with the commission, in which it was asserted that "the real present owners of the bituminous coal mines of the country are the stockholders of the existing companies." Exact figures as to the number of investors were not then available, but a questionaire sent to every coal company on the Geological Survey list has since produced the data required. Replies were received from 50.18 per cent. of the companies, and the number of replies, especially from the larger companies, is such as to give adequate representation, the memorandum points out. These replies are tabulated by classes in the memorandum.

That 360,000 private individuals have their money directly invested in the coal business, is indicated by the returns on the questionnaire, the memorandum states. The number of investors in the 50.18 per cent. of the companies who replied, is 125,967, exclusive of those owning stock in holding companies. "It would seem proper," the memorandum states, "to estimate the number of investors in the companies which have not reported on the assumption that, in each company which has not replied, the average will be the same as in companies of the same class that have. This gives the figure of 292,618 for the total number of individual investors in the bituminous coal industry, exclusive of investors in companies holding stock of subsidiary corporations which are engaged in the coal business, and exclusive of bond holders and similar indirect investors."

"It is a different matter," the memorandum continues, "to estimate with any accuracy the number of stockholders in companies which themselves own stock in subsidiary corporations engaged in the production of bituminous coal. Our returns show a total of 109 subsidiary corporations among the 50.18 per cent. of the total number of bituminous companies. Ninety of the 109 reported the name of the parent company. The stock in these 50, with the exception of qualifying shares, was held by a total of 57 holding companies. These, included among them such organizations as the United States Steel Corporation, the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway, the Chicago & Northwestern Railway, and the International Harvester Company, each with thousands of stockholders. Obviously it would be most conservative to estimate the number of persons interested as investors in the bituminous coal industry through stock ownership in companies owning subsidiaries engaged in that industry at at least 200,000.

"That would give a total of over 400,000 as the number of individual holdings of investors who are interested in the bituminous coal industry," says the memorandum. "Deducting 10 per cent. of the total for possible duplication, due to the same persons being stockholders in several companies or partners in several firms, the net result would show the number of individual investors in the soft coal companies of the United States to be 360,000. If there is added to that the large number of persons who own bonds in coal companies and the still larger number who have an indirect but highly important interest in the coal industry through banks and other institutions which help finance the industry, it will be found that there are more individuals with money at stake in coal mining than there are employees in that industry.

Reports of Federal Fuel Distributor Wattleigh, the memorandum declares, show that for the past four months the price for soft coal has been below the cost of production for a substantial part of the tonnage necessary to supply the country's needs, as was also the case before the war. Undoubtedly, too, it says, the industry's troubles are not at an end.

"This fact emphasizes," concludes the memorandum, "the importance of consideration by the commission of recommendations which will tend to stabilize the industry and secure for it a public understanding of the difficulties under which it labors."

Longest Tunnel in America. The Molok tunnel in Colorado, placing the highest part of the Rockies, will be upon completion in 1926, the fifth longest transportation tunnel in the world and the longest in America. It will cut the rail distance between Denver and Salt Lake City 173 miles and open a new route from Chicago to the Pacific 70 miles shorter than the shortest existing line. The total cost of drilling the six miles of tunnel through solid granite will be $6,750,000.

Canadian Coal Output. The output of coal from Canadian mines was 1,232,000 tons in May.

Kansas Coal Co. Sells Houses to Miners at Cost

An operating coal company at Crowburg, Kans., builds houses for the miners which it sells to them at actual cost.

Thirty new houses were put up by this company and sold to miners, who are allowed to pay for them at the rate of $13.50 a month, with an interest payment of six per cent. on the unpaid money. This series of payments stretches over nine years. Another plan for buying some of the houses is to permit the miners to pay $15 a month for a period of ten years. No rental in addition to these amounts is paid.

The houses were found to be tastefully laid out by a prominent landscape architect, have lawns and gardens, and are modern in every respect. This was not charity on the part of the company, it was found. It was merely good, sound business. The company found it to be a good investment to keep its men and their families contented. In the same company, following this idea, the company put up a building containing a gymnasium, bowling alleys, a basketball court, a dance floor, two moving picture machines, a stage with regular dressing rooms, a soda water fountain, shower baths, and having in the rear a big playground, equipped with standard appliances, for the smaller children.

Dismissing Lawrence Furnace. Lawrence furnace of the Martin Iron & Steel Company, Irontown, O., located at Colerston, O., is being dismantled, having been sold for junk. The furnace, which had a capacity of 70,000 tons of pig iron per year, was built in 1894. It had not been operating since 1920.

Romance in an Old Gray House in New York City

New York.—Up on Central Park West, in the middle 80s, there is a boarding house that is unique—absolutely different from every other boarding house in the manner in which it is run and the sort of people who live there. It is an old-fashioned gray brick house with a corner tower and it was "founded" (for it is an institution) by three southern sisters.

During the twenty-odd years they have been taking "paying guests" they have introduced a modicum of sympathy and understanding and friendliness into their home far above most boarding houses.

Two of the sisters have gone to their reward, but the third sister remains at the helm. The house has a reputation in the South, from Washington, D. C., to Key West, from White Sulphur to Galveston. And many a southern father who would not otherwise let his daughter come along to wicked New York, feels that she is perfectly safe at the old gray house in Central Park West.

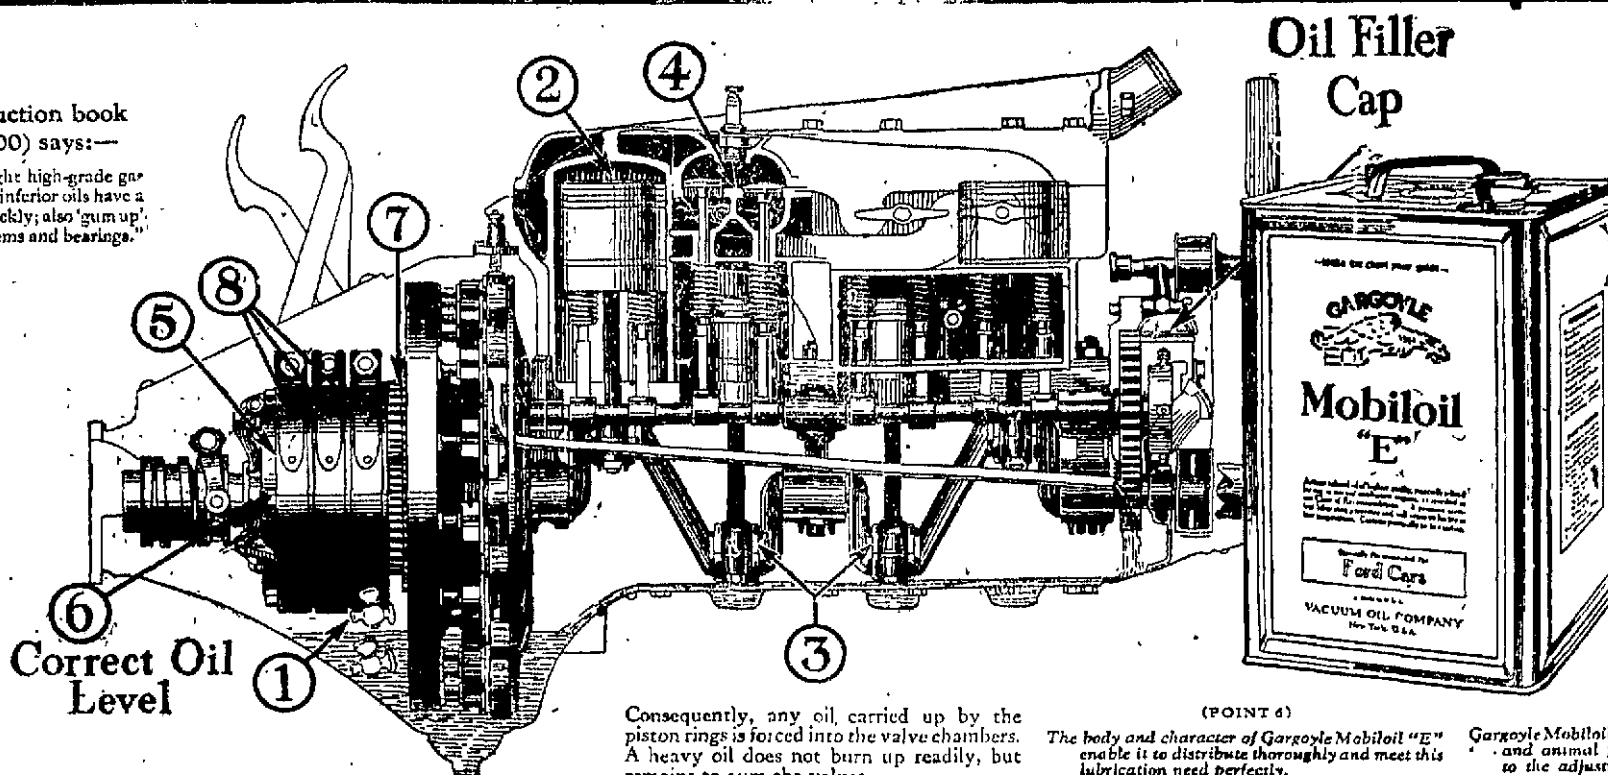

As young men boarders are not lacking it is the house of the place that romances which have led to about 57 marriages have begun or culminated within its walls.

The food, served with a southern graciousness, is really southern cooking. Motorist Killed. WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—D. C. Burran, aged 10, of Fredericktown, Mo., was killed yesterday afternoon when his automobile skidded and overturned on a hill at Camp Island, plunging him underneath. His wife and two children, who were also in the car, escaped with minor bruises. The Burrans were enroute from their home in Beaver Falls with the intention of visiting relatives.

Why not settle, once and for all, this question of Correct Lubrication for your Ford?

Your Ford instruction book (Answer No. 100) says:—

"We recommend only light high-grade gas engine oil. . . Heavy and inferior oils have a tendency to carbonize quickly; also 'gum up' the piston rings, valve stems and bearings."

Let us show you exactly why your Ford engine operates best on a clean-burning oil, such as Gargoyle Mobiloil "E."

First, you pour in the oil. Your Ford manual tells you to open the top pet-cock on the oil reservoir, and to pour oil into the filler until it runs from this top pet-cock.

Suppose you pour in an oil heavier than "E." It is easy to supply too much, unless the oil flows out freely when the upper pet-cock level is reached. Heavier-bodied oils flow sluggishly. Consequently there is a danger of over-supply.

(POINT 1)
When you pour in Gargoyle Mobiloil "E," it runs out at once when the oil is up to the pet-cock level. The correct oil level is obtained with CERTAINTY.

But possibly you do not think that this over-supply of oil makes any difference. Well, let us see what happens.

You notice that there is no splash trough for the rear cylinder. It is lubricated by the fly-wheel splash. (The third cylinder also receives some of this splash.)

If there is too much oil in the reservoir there will be too much oil splashed to the third and fourth cylinders. From the cylinder walls this excessive amount of oil reaches the combustion chambers where it is burned up. With an over-supply of oil heavier than "E," don't be surprised if you find extra heavy carbon deposits in these rear cylinders.

(POINT 2)
The exceptionally clean-burning character of Gargoyle Mobiloil "E" minimizes the tendency toward carbon formation in the combustion chambers.

Next let us look at the connecting rods and splash troughs. Cylinders 1, 2 and 3 are lubricated by the dipping of the connecting rods into the troughs underneath. Remember that these connecting rods have no oil holes, no oil grooves, no dippers. To lubricate the friction surfaces the oil must work its way through the close clearances between the ends of the bearings and the crank cheeks, and then distribute itself over the bearing surfaces.

(POINT 3)
Gargoyle Mobiloil "E" is sufficiently fluid to reach and lubricate these surfaces with ease. An incorrect or heavier oil very often does not.

Next, let us consider the pistons. The Ford pistons over-run the top of the cylinder bore.

Consequently, any oil carried up by the piston rings is forced into the valve chambers. A heavy oil does not burn up readily, but remains to gum the valves.

(POINT 4)
Gargoyle Mobiloil "E," being a clean-burning oil, is readily consumed and expelled. It does not remain to foul the valves, seats, and stems.

The Ford multiple disc clutch runs "wet" is continually in a spray of engine oil. All manufacturers of this type of clutch recommend an oil which will give positive, quick engagement with no slipping, and an instantaneous release.

Heavier oils used in Ford engines cause a drag between the clutch plates. "Creeping" is the result. The car starts ahead when the engine starts, although the clutch is released.

(POINT 5)
Gargoyle Mobiloil "E" gives positive and immediate clutch engagement and disengagement. There is no "creeping."

Just a word about the transmission. In the Ford you have a Planetary transmission employing three close-fitting sleeves, mounted on an extension of the crank-shaft. A heavy-bodied oil is not well adapted to work into and thoroughly lubricate the sleeves and bearings.

(POINT 6)
The body and character of Gargoyle Mobiloil "E" enable it to distribute thoroughly and meet this lubrication need perfectly.

As to the transmission gears: There are three sets of triple gears mounted on close-fitting pivots. These gears are bronze bushed. The bearings fit tightly—in fact, so tightly that oil heavier than "E" is handicapped in working into and correctly lubricating the bushings and pins.

(POINT 7)
Gargoyle Mobiloil "E" is of such body that it freely creeps in between the close-fitting parts and thoroughly lubricates the gears and bearings.

Chattering of Ford transmission bands comes from incorrectly adjusted bands or worn out linings, and is aggravated by unburned fuel mixed with the lubricating oil. In such cases the diluted oil should be replaced with fresh oil and the bands correctly adjusted or the linings renewed. To attempt to remedy such mechanical conditions by the use of so-called "anti-chattering oils" containing foreign material which may separate, or lard oil, wool grease or other animal fats which decompose under heat, is obviously wrong and likely to cause gumming of the valve stems, carbon deposit and other trouble.

(POINT 8)
Gargoyle Mobiloil "E" is free from foreign material and animal fat. Its use and proper attention to the adjustment and renewal of the bands will give the greatest possible freedom from chattering. At the same time it will correctly lubricate the engine.

This concludes our trip through the Ford lubrication system.

AFTER careful consideration of the above Ford characteristics the Vacuum Oil Company's Board of Engineers saw plainly the need for a free-flowing oil of high quality and with minimum carbonizing tendencies. To meet these exacting needs of the Ford engine, clutch, and transmission, Gargoyle Mobiloil "E" is manufactured.

The results secured by Ford owners through the use of Gargoyle Mobiloil "E" are ample proof of the high quality of this oil and the correctness of this recommendation. Put Gargoyle Mobiloil "E" in your Ford today.

FAIR RETAIL PRICE
—30¢ A QUART

When the dealer sells a quart of Gargoyle Mobiloil for less than 30¢, he does not make his fair, reasonable profit. Lower prices often accompany substitution of low-quality oil for genuine Gargoyle Mobiloil. Prices are slightly higher in Canada, the South-west, and the Far West.

WHY COMPANY TOWN IS MAINTAINED AT SOFT COAL PLANTS

Essential to Provide Living Accommodations for Employees and Families.

EXPLANATION OF LEASES

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The reason why company-owned mining towns exist, why operators continue to support them despite the fact that they are a heavy drain on company capital, the origin of the restrictions enforced in these towns and the causes of their continuance, are set forth in a brief filed by the Bituminous Operators' Special Committee with the United States Coal Commission.

In connection the creation is announced of a department in the National Coal Association designed to represent a thoroughly progressive and helpful spirit on the part of employer toward employee. The new agency is to deal with the problems of housing, welfare work, and mining community activities generally. That department will carefully study the various problems involved and will from time to time recommend to the operators desirable improvements. It will keep in touch with the development in housing and welfare work and will endeavor to assist with information and other use any operators who may desire its assistance.

serve as a co-ordinating body to inform the operators as to the best work that is being done along the line of improving living conditions for miners, and that it will help to direct the present course of improvement into the most desirable channels.

Company towns, the brief says, are far from "a feudal survival resulting from the attempt of conscienceless operators to deprive their workmen of the civil liberties of American citizens."

The actual facts, as set forth in the brief, are that coal must be mined where it is found; that it is often found in isolated, unsettled regions unattractive to other industry; that the average field lasts rarely longer than 20 years and often not more than 10; with the natural result that the individual mine has little incentive to build a home which will become valueless after a certain period. Consequently the mine owner must provide one for him, and so far as this from being profitable for the operator that the leases due to it are considered an element of the cost of mining.

Often as much as half of the company's capital has to be tied up in a mining town, the brief declares, and not only is the investment large but it is also, in most cases, unproductive, particularly in regard to community buildings. As further proof that mining companies do not erect towns for profit, the brief quotes the low rentals prevalent for miners' homes. An investigation carried out in 281 towns in 11 states shows that for the same type of accommodation, rents in mining towns are 50 per cent lower than in rural districts and one to 200 per cent lower than in other towns. In fact, they have been practically stationary in company-owned houses since 1917, the period of greatest increase everywhere else. In West Virginia, for example, they run from one to two dollars a month per room per month over half the houses, regardless of size. The reason the operators permit such a condition to continue, the brief states, is because the more comfortable the miner the more satisfied he is naturally. Labor turnover, it points out, is expensive and labor turnover is influenced approximately 50 per cent by houses and living conditions. That is why the operators provide churches, schools, hospitals, movie theatres, dance halls, pool rooms—in short everything necessary to insure the miner's advancement and comfort.

Turning to the restrictions so bitterly attacked by the operators' critics, the brief discusses three main features—the leases which provide for giving up possession of the house, the company's right to determine what person shall be invited into the house and the so-called "armed guard" system.

"It has been assumed by the uncritical," says the brief, "that these restrictive measures were put into effect simply for the purpose of oppressing the mine workers. This is entirely untrue. In every instance there had their origin and they owe their existence to the fact that they were and are necessary measures of defense against the constant threat of foreign and unlawful attacks by the United Mine Workers of America."

has been repeatedly held by the courts that tenure of a company house is incidental to employment. Decisions from these houses are made because they are necessary, if the mine is to operate. They are always made humanely, the brief declares, and through use of legal process, and very often only after considerable delay. The case is quoted of the Somerset strikers who, though on the company's payroll from April 1, 1922 continued to live in company-owned houses until July 1923, having failed to pay rent for 15 months.

Turning to the question of restricting visitors to company towns, the brief declares:

"In the general campaign against the independent coal fields the United Mine Workers sent their agents to these fields, and these agents sought to disturb the good relationship existing between employers and employees. It is in part for the purpose of keeping out these agents that the restrictive covenants are inserted in the leases. . . . The restrictions, however, are not primarily directed against the organizer of the United Mine Workers but against the bootlegger and prostitute. Without such restrictions the maintenance of order and common morality in many mining camps would become almost impossible."

That mine guards paid by the operators are sometimes used to police mining towns was due, the brief points out, originally to government failure to provide police and not to the desire of the company. Some system of policing was necessary, and the mine communities could not or would not provide it. The continuance of the practice is due, however, to the stand made by the United Mine Workers against state police. "They have attained the purpose of restriction and continuance of the state police in West Virginia," the brief declares. "They have tried to secure their abolition in Pennsylvania. They opposed and succeeded in defeating bills to establish systems of state constabulary in Indiana, Illinois and Ohio. They have succeeded in securing the abolition of state constabulary in Colorado. Privately paid policemen cannot be dispensed with, so long as the United Mine Workers will not permit a force of publicly paid police to be created."

"Two things," the brief concludes, "are essential to the satisfactory solution of the problem to which the necessity of the company town gives rise. One is the clearing-up of the popular misconceptions as to conditions. The second and most important is an abandonment by the United Mine Workers of its militant and violent methods which will render unnecessary those measures of defense which are now in force."

Compels Employees To Save at Least 10% of Earnings

ABILENE, Kans., Sept. 21.—(United Press.)—Clayton L. Brown, of Abilene, who, as president of the United Light & Power System and of the United Telephone Company, employs over 1,000 employees, was today compelling his employees to save 10 per cent of their earnings.

less he planned to save at least 10 per cent of his income in the future. He must seek another job.

"We are not concerned with the other 90 per cent of your wages, but we do want to know what you do with 10 per cent of them and intend to find out," Brown told his workers.

And he did. Employees have invested in every kind of investment, stock, and have shunned risky oil and blue-sky paper. All were forced to submit a report of their investments and they were gone over by an expert accountant, who is paid for doing this work alone.

A stenographer, who was investigating in pretty "underhanded" for her "hope of a check," learned, with surprise, that this was a poor investment, and was advised to change to something more tangible which would bring in dollars and cents.

Employees who were in debt were forced to submit the amount of their liabilities and were then granted permission to apply the 10 per cent to their debts, but were cautioned not to go deeper in debt.

"It costs about $12,000 a year to keep up this system," Brown declares. "But when you think that it gives the workers a feeling of confidence in the future, it is well worth it."

high cost information to a government agency and possibly also legislation authorizing the executive to take over the coal mines and operate them in the event of a strike. These two recommendations were contained in the report of the commission on anthracite made public in July and are expected to be renewed in the final report on bituminous coal to be made public this month. There is a legal doubt as to the power of Congress to authorize taking over the mines.

In connection with Governor Pinchot's request for cooperation in his efforts to secure a proper distribution of coal at reasonable prices it was stated that President Coolidge already had discussed the matter with members of the Coal Commission and has requested them to do everything possible along this line.

While the Coal Commission goes out of existence on September 22nd, the President plans to continue to consult its members unofficially if the occasion should require. He feels that there is not likely to be any occasion which would necessitate an extension of the commission's authority which could only be granted by Congress.

P. R. Wadleigh, the federal fuel distributor, also goes out of office on September 22. He will return to his place as head of the coal division of the Department of Commerce.

Western Maryland Earnings Increase.

Western Maryland Railway Company showed an increase in estimated earnings for the week ended August 31 of $1,672.39 over the same week last year. The total for the week was $6,653.77, as compared with $547,661.68.

THREE MEN AND A MAID

by P.G. Wodehouse

Illustrations by Irwin Myers

Copyright, by George H. Doran Co.

Sam Marlowe had watched his cousin's dash for the open with a consternation so complete that his senses seemed to have left him. A general, deserted by his men on some stricken field, might have felt something akin to his emotion. Of all the learned professions, the imitation of Mr. Frank Tinney is the one which can least easily be carried through single-handed. The man at the piano, the leader of the orchestra, is essential. He is the life-blood of the entertainment. Without him nothing can be done.

For an instant Sam stood there, gaping blankly. Then the open door of the saloon seemed to beckon an invitation. He made for it, reached it, passed through it. That concluded his efforts in aid of the Seamen's Orphan and Widows.

The spell which had lain on the audience broke. This imitation seemed to them to possess in an extraordinary measure the one quality which renders amateur imitations tolerable, that of brevity. They had seen many amateur imitations, but never one as short as this. The saloon echoed with their applause.

It brought no balm to Samuel Marlowe. He did not hear it. He had fled for refuge to his stateroom and was lying in the lower berth, chewing the pillow, a soul in torment.

CHAPTER VII

There was a tap at the door. Sam sat up dazedly. He had lost all count of time.

"Who's that?"

"I have a note for you, sir."

It was the lovely voice of J. B. Midgley, the steward. Stewards, besides being the civillest and most obliging body of men in the world, all have soft and pleasant voices. A steward, waiting you up at six-thirty, to tell you that your bath is ready, when you wanted to sleep on till twelve, is the nearest human approach to the night-angel.

"A note, sir."

Sam jumped up and switched on the light. He went to the door and took the note from J. B. Midgley, who, his mission accomplished, retired in an orderly manner down the passage. Sam looked at the letter with a thrill. He had never seen the handwriting before, but, with the eye of love, he recognized it. It was just the sort of hand he would have expected Billie to write, round and smooth and flowing, the writing of a warm-hearted girl. He tore open the envelope.

"Please come up to the top deck. I want to speak to you."

Sam could not disguise it from himself that he was a little disappointed. I don't know if you saw anything wrong with the letter, but the way Sam looked at it was that for a first love-letter, it might have been longer and perhaps a shade warmer. And, without running any risk of writer's cramp, she might have signed it.

However these were small matters. No doubt she had been in a hurry and all that sort of thing. The important point was that he was going to see her. When a man's afraid, sings the bard, a beautiful maid is a cheering sight to see; and the same truth holds good when a man has made an exhibition of himself at a ship's concert. A woman's gentle sympathy, by that was what Samuel Marlowe wanted more than anything else at the moment. That, he felt, was what the doctor ordered. He scrubbed the burnt cork off his face with all possible speed, and changed his clothes and made his way to the upper deck. It was like Billie, he felt, to have chosen this spot for their meeting. It would be deserted and it was hallowed for them both by sacred associations.

She was standing at the rail, looking out over the water. The moon was quite full. Out on the horizon to the south its light shone on the sea, making it look like the silver beach of some distant fairy island. The girl appeared to be wrapped in thought, and it was not till the sharp crack of Sam's heel against an overhanging stanchion announced his approach that she turned.

"Oh, is that you?"

"Yes."

"You've been a long time."

"It wasn't an easy job," explained

Sam, "getting all that burnt cork off. You've no notion how the stuff sticks. You have to use butter."

"Don't!"

"But I did. You have to with burnt cork."

"Don't tell me these horrible things."

Her voice rose almost hysterically. "I never want to hear the words burnt cork mentioned again as long as I live."

"I feel exactly the same," Sam moved to her side.

"Darling," he said in a low voice.

"It was like you to ask me to meet you here. I knew what you were thinking. You thought that I should need sympathy. You wanted to see me, to smooth my wounded feelings, to hold me in your arms, and tell me that, as we loved each other, what did anything else matter?"

"I didn't."

"You didn't?"

"No, I didn't."

"Oh, you didn't! I thought you did!"

He looked at her wistfully.

"I thought," he said, "that possibly you might have wished to comfort me. I have been through a great strain. I have had a shock."

"And what about me?" she demanded passionately. "Haven't I had a shock?"

He melted at once.

"Have you had a shock, too? Poor little thing! Sit down and tell me all about it."

She looked away from him, her face working.

"Can't you understand what a shock I have had? I thought you were the perfect knight."

"Yes, isn't it?"

"Isn't what?"

"I thought you said it was a perfect knight."

"I said I thought you were a perfect knight."

"Oh, ah!"

A sailor crossed the deck, a dim figure in the shadows, went over to a sort of raised summerhouse with a brass thingummy in it, fiddled about for a moment, and went away again. Sailors earn their money easily.

"Yes!" said Sam when he had gone.

"I forget what I was saying."

"Something about my being the perfect knight."

"Yes, I thought you were."

"That's good."

"But you're not!"

"Not?"

"No?"

"Oh?"

Silence fell. Sam was feeling hurt and bewildered. He could not understand her mood. He had come up expecting to be soothed and comforted and was like a potlatch iceberg. Cynically, he recalled some lines of poetry which he had had to write out a hundred times on one occasion at school as a punishment for having introduced a white mouse into chapel.

"Oh, woman in our hours of ease, Un-something, something, something, please. Wasn't tiddy-umpty empty brow, A something, something, something, thou?"

He had forgotten the exact words, but the gist of it had been that woman, however she might treat a man in times of prosperity, could be relied on to rally round and do the right thing when he was in trouble. How little the poet had known women.

"Why not?" he said humbly.

She gave a little sob.

"I put you on a pedestal and I find you have feet of clay. You have blurred the image which I formed of you. I can never think of you again without picturing you as you stood in that saloon, stammering and helpless."

"Well, what can you do when your pianist runs out on you?"

"You could have done something. I can't forgive a man for looking ridiculous. Oh, what, what," she cried, "induced you to try to give an imitation of Bert Williams?"

Sam started, stung to the quick.

"It wasn't Bert Williams. It was Frank Tinney!"

"Well, how was I to know?"

"I did my best," said Sam solemnly.

"That is the awful thought."

"I did it for your sake."

"I know. It gives me a horrible sense of guilt." She shuddered again. Then suddenly, with the nervous quickness of a woman unstrung, thrust a small black goliwog into his hand.

"Take it!"

"What's this?"

"You bought it for me yesterday at the barber's shop. It is the only present that you have given me. Take it back."

"I don't want it. I shouldn't know what to do with it."

"You must take it," she said in a low voice. "It is a symbol."

"A what?"

"A symbol of our broken love."

"I don't see how you make that out. It's a goliwog."

"Can't you marry me now?"

"What! Good heavens! Don't be absurd!"

"I can't."

"Oh, go on, have a dash at it," he said encouragingly, though his heart was sinking.

She shook her head.

"No, I couldn't."

"Oh, hang it all!"

"I couldn't. I'm a strange girl..."

"You're a darned silly girl..."

"I don't see what right you have to say that," she flared.

"I don't see what right you have to say you can't marry me and try to lead me up with goliwogs," he retorted.

Firm, Plump, Fresh!

MANY are the eyes that are turned to gaze with keen admiration on the well developed, healthy girl no matter where she may be—on the rapidly moving thoroughfare or gliding gracefully over the dance floor.

All eyes turn because we all appreciate the girl with the figure so firm and plump—the girl with radiantly red cheeks, cheeks that carry a touch of roses from nature's own garden—the girl with the sparkling eyes, loveliness and sharp—the girl with buoyancy and the swing of youth.

Not necessarily an out-of-doors girl. Just a girl with ever increasing blood cells. Just a girl filled with the vim and vigor of youth.

S. S. S., since 1820, has stood for increased blood cells. S. S. S. means restored strength—rekindled vitality—added energy. Take S. S. S. and watch the bloom of youth return to your cheeks. Watch that flabby, ill nourished flesh fade away before flesh that is firm and plump. Red blood cells will do it and S. S. S. will build them. It contains only pure vegetable ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores. The large size bottle is more economical.

S.S.S. Makes You Feel Like Yourself Again

ed with equal heart.

"Oh, can't you understand?"

"No, I'm dashed if I can."

She looked at him despondently.

"When I said I would marry you, you were a hero to me. You stood to me for everything that was noble and brave and wonderful. I had only to shut my eyes to conjure up the picture of you as you dived off the rail that morning. Now—her voice trembled—"I shut my eyes now—I can only see a man with a hideous black face making himself the laughing stock of the ship. How can I marry you, haunted by that picture?"

"But, good heavens, you talk as if I made a habit of blacking up! You talk as if you expected me to come to the altar smothered in burnt cork."

"I shall always think of you as I saw you tonight."

She looked at him sadly. "There's a bit of black still on your test ear."

He tried to take her hand. But she drew it away. He felt back as if struck.

"So this is the end," he murmured.

"Yes, it's partly on your ear and partly on your cheek."

"So this is the end," he repeated.

"You had better go below and ask your steward to give you some more butter."

He laughed bitterly.

"Well, I might have expected it. I might have known what would happen! Business warned me. Distress was right. He knows women—as I do—now. Women! What mighty ills have not been done by women? Who would betray the what's-its-name? A woman! Who lost... lost... lost... who—er—and so on! A woman... So all is over! There is nothing to be said but good-by!"

"No."

"Good-by, then, Miss Bennett!"

"Good-by," said Billie sadly. "I—I'm sorry."

"Don't mention it!"

"You do understand, don't you?"

"You have made everything perfectly clear."

"I hope—I hope you won't be unhappy."

"Unhappy!" Sam produced a strangled noise from his larynx, like the cry of a shrimp in pain. "Unhappy! I'm not unhappy! Whatever gave you that idea? I'm smiling! I'm laughing! I feel I've had a wonderful escape."

"It's very unkind and rude of you to say that."

"It reminds me of a moving picture I saw in New York. It was called, 'Saved From the Scaffold.'"

"Oh!"

"I'm not unhappy. What have I got to be unhappy about? What on earth does any man want to get married for? I don't... Give me my gay bachelor life! My uncle Charlie used to say, 'It's better luck to get married than it is to be kicked in the head by a mule.' But he was an optimist. Good-night, Miss Bennett. And good-by—forever."

He turned on his heel and strode across the deck. From a white heaven the moon still shone benignly down, mocking him. He had spoken bravely; the most capacious article could not but have admitted that he had made a good exit. But already his heart was aching. As he drew near to his stateroom, he was amazed and disgusted to hear a high tenor voice raised in song proceeding from behind the closed door.

I fearer have few in shoe-ling arr-mor. Though his lance be sharrp and-er keen.

But I fearer, I fearer the glah-mor. Through thy dar-roopng lances seen: I fearer, I fearer the glah-mor...

Sam flung open the door wrathfully. That Sustance Hignett should be alive was bad—he had pictured him hurling himself overboard and bobbing about, a pleasing sight. In the wake of the vessel that he should be singing was an outrage. Remote, Sam thought, should have stricken Sustance Hignett dumb. Instead of which, here he was comparing himself like a blasted tinnet. It was all wrong. "Can man could have no conscience whatever."

"Well," he said, sternly, "he then you are!"

ADVERTISE IN OUR CLASSIFIED COLUMNS

Decline in Production Almost Equals the Gain Of the Preceding Week

Furnace Loss 16,220 Tons;
Merchant, 1,800 Tons; Total Output 239,580 Tons.

PRE-STRIKE MOMENTUM

Has Apparently Been Checked and Production is Now Safely Within The Limits of Consumptive Requirements; Active Oven List Reduced.

From The Weekly Courier.
The production of coke fell off almost as sharply last week as during the preceding six days it had advanced before the momentum acquired a week earlier could be checked. The loss, totalling 16,220 tons at both furnace and merchant plants, came within 1,370 tons of neutralizing the gain made during the week ending September 3.

The reduction by the respective producing interests was very nearly in the same proportion, and closely approached in amounts, to the increases recorded the week before. The gain of the month, due to the probability of a strike of some duration in the anthracite field, was the factor behind the enlargement of output in the week of September 3. The so-called "settlement" of the hard coal controversy removed whatever inactivity there remained to augment coke production and last week the producers called a halt in that direction.

Such changes as had taken place in the market, incident to larger activity in heating coke, did not, of course, have any relation to the slowing down of production at the furnace ovens, but it did have the effect of causing the merchant operators to proceed with more caution. They not only stopped firing up ovens but blew out a six to five day running schedule.
Merchant output declined 1,800 tons to a level of 100,780 tons. This increase in the week preceding had been 3,890 tons, hence the merchant share of the weekly output remains at 2,000 tons above the pre-strike mark on September 1.

In cutting their weekly production to 135,830 tons the furnace plants dropped about as much below their quota on September 1 as the merchants are now above theirs at that date. Last week was the second this month when the furnace ovens have made a very sharp curtailment. That made in the first week of the month was followed by an increase in the following week which more than made good the loss. Last week the gain made the week before was again almost wiped out. Just what has been the cause of this up and down movement in alternating weeks is not apparent but there is no uncertainty as to the effect. This has been to bring the mean of September production to a lower point in the furnace curve than has been recorded since the first half of January.

With merchant production brought close to 100,000 tons it is the belief in the trade, that it is not in excess of present market demands and that it can readily be absorbed unless some unexpected development takes place that will cause a surplus. This view is strengthened by the fact that such reaction as has taken place since the anthracite adjustment has had only slight softening effect on furnace and foundry prices. Floating coke, which advanced the farthest when speculation as to the duration of a strike was being rather freely indulged, has receded to the July level. If the general market were less stable than is now apparent it is conceivable that no marked decline in one grade would have a corresponding effect on other grades. "That this has not taken place is regarded as an indication that the reaction has practically run its course and that the next change, if any, will be in the direction of better demand and slighter higher prices.

The estimated production of coke
during the week ended Saturday, September 16, was 239,580 tons, divided between the two districts as follows: Connelville, 130,720, a decrease of 10,190 tons; Lower Connelville, 108,860, a decrease of 1,020 tons, a total decrease of 16,220 tons, as compared with a total increase of 17-590 tons during the preceding week.

By interests the production was:
Furnace, 155,830, a loss of 15,430 tons;
merchant, 100,750, a loss of 1,800 tons, as compared with gains of 13,700 and 3,890 tons respectively during the week ended September 3.

The net decrease of 40 in the number of ovens in blast took place at merchant operations only, the changes having been: In, 25 at Shamrock; five at Tower Hill No. 1; 27 at Yukon.
Out, 100 at Oliver Nos. 1, 2 and 3;
six at Tower Hill No. 2.

ABILITY TO SAY "I SAW IT"

Makes Ticketholder at Public Spectacle Not Idea That He Had His Money's Worth.

Questions from Shakespeare and the Bible, analogies drawn from the fall of Rome, and accusations of "loose thinking" are all powerful weapons in an argument, but the most effective is the stout assertion: "I saw it with my own eyes."

This explains why many spectators who have paid substantial sums to see a somewhat disappointing spectacle, such as a recent fight in Jersey City, and go to bed chagrined, come to believe before the following noon that they have had their money's worth.
For there is the thrill of speaking with authority, says the New York Sun and Globe. Instead of being brusquely contradicted after each statement, they are listened to with respect and are freely quoted and appealed to by the title of "eyewitness." Probably at the next event there will be many buying tickets with the resolute that "this time if that dub
Jones tries to tell me what happened,
I'll tell him what I saw, and let him know where to get off."

Buried Five Minutes, and Lives.

Buried alive by a landslide for about five minutes, a laborer of Michigan, S. D., though severely bruised and injured, lives to tell the tale. He was working in an eight-foot ditch in which water mains are being laid, when a landslide occurred in which he was caught. He called for help as the soft gravel pinned him down, but it was five minutes before he could be dug out. The gravel caught and pinned him in an upright position and the dirt was piled three feet above his head. The landslide broke his shoulder, fractured his pelvis and dislocated his right hip, and his fellow laborers, in digging him out, made numerous bruises and wounds on his head, face and body with their sharp shovels.

CAN NOW DO HOUSEWORK

Suffering, Quickly Relieved, Regains Strength, Thanks Dreco.

Mrs. James H. Trump, general do-livery, Connelville, Pa., says:
"My liver was bad. My system felt stuffed and clogged up. Probably the constipation condition I was in all the time had something to do with it.
I looked pale and grew thinner and thinner as time went on.
I had no appetite for food. An-couldn't sleep well. When I got up the morning I felt tired and worn out.
I felt as if I never wanted to get up.
I had pains in my back that would dart through like hot coals every time I moved.
"Although I was careful of what I ate, I always suffered after meals.
Indigestion pains would double me up with cramps, make me gasp for breath. I had splitting headaches that I thought would drive me mad.
I was nervous and in a terrible rundown condition. My friends even noticed how I suffered.
"Now they notice how much better
I look. I started taking Dreco and this wonderful remedy soon and me back on my feet in good condition. All my troubles have disappeared. I sleep fine and in the morning bounce out of bed, full of energy and popper ready for anything the day might hold. I hope that every man and woman suffering as I did will benefit by my experience and let Dreco help them. Its powers are marvelous." Dreco is being specially introduced by Connelville Drug Company and sold by druggists everywhere. Also for sale by Hoffman's Drug Store in

Twentieth Century "Prophet."

A king of considerable ancestry whom King George has lately honored with the grand companionship of the Victoria Order is Aga Khan, forty-eight descendant in direct and unbroken line from the daughter of the prophet Mohammed, founder of the faith of Islam. Here is a man who is not a potentate robed in the garb of the Near East, but a completely modern man in the western sense—dress suit, horse races, golf, stamps, polo, tennis, poker, jazz, etc.

Electricity Warms Swimming Pools.

Thousands will be saved by the two largest electric water heating boilers in the world, which have been installed in the city of Wheeling's swimming tanks. The new system will warm the water in the pools and supply hot water for the shower baths. The baths will use no more coal whatever. It will mean a saving to the city of several thousand dollars each year.

Initial Football Game To Be Played Tomorrow With Youngwood Eleven

High School Teams Will Play Lid Off Popular Fall Pastime in City.

SPECIAL CAR IS COMING

The first football game of the season will be played tomorrow afternoon in Connellsville. Fayette Field will once more hear the raucous of the school students and the encouragement of the other fans as the Connellsville High School gidders meet the Youngwood High School in the opening clash of the year.

The locals have been whipped into shape with rapidity this week. The first hard scrimmage was held last Saturday morning and since then Coach Lerow has had the boys down to a hard grind. It will be the first opportunity to really see the outfit properly working and will give some sort of an idea as to what kind of success the combination may expect in future games.

Youngwood is coming here strong. The Westmoreland county eleven will be supported by 150 student rooters who are coming on a special West Penn car.

Of Interest to Fans.

The Pirate-Giant baseball game in Pittsburg yesterday was postponed on account of rain. The two teams will meet this afternoon.

In a double-header yesterday Cincinnati split with Philadelphia, losing the first 3-0 and winning the second, 8-7.

Not too soon to begin talking about the proposed six-team intercounty baseball league for next year. It is likely such a proposition would pay well.

The Connellsville Independents, disbanded this year before the season had ended, achieved a significant victory during the summer. In a game with the Harnarville Consumers at Fayette Field the Cokers won 11-2. Since then the defeated nine has become western state champions.

The Connellsville High School football team, in its new uniforms, will present a snappy appearance this season.

The Elk Tornadoes will have strength equal to the other three seasons in which the team has operated, fans believe. The riders are already getting in the preliminary training and will be ready for action early in October, when the first game is scheduled.

The New York Yankees yesterday clinched the American League pennant.

Mount Pleasant Superiors Ready For Grid Season

MOUNT PLEASANT, Sept. 21.—The Superior football team has organized and would like to hear from the Connellsville Tornado, Juniors, South Connellsville or any other junior teams in that district. The Superiors had a very successful season last year and expect to do even better this season. All teams desiring games address William Bush, 418 Howard street, Mount Pleasant, Pa.

Matthews, Is Star

Wild Matthews, the galloping young outfielder of Connie Mack's rejuvenated Athletics, has been christened "Sparkplug" and is proving himself every bit as popular and successful as his namesake.

BASEBALL PLAYED IN ALL PARTS OF WORLD

Chinese Have Developed Remarkable Proficiency.

Baseball is fast spreading to all four corners of the earth. France, Germany, Italy, Japan, China, Mexico, Cuba, Canada, several South American countries, Australia—these are only a few of the places which have taken up the great national pastime of the United States.

Strange as it may appear, the Chinese have developed remarkable proficiency in baseball, ranking even better than the Japanese.

During the tour of the big leaguers in the East last winter, some stiff opposition was encountered in China. A team of all-Chinese players has been coming to this country for the last five years. Their record against the best college teams is 80 per cent on the credit side. The first year only one college nine was able to beat the Chinese, who won 27 games out of 28, and that was the crack Notre Dame aggregation.

Chung Lee, a Chinese living near Philadelphia, was a member of the first team to come over. He was offered a berth with the Philadelphia Nationals but was unable to stick. He played for two years in the Eastern league, however.

Cubans have also shown great aptitude for baseball, and there are several Cuban teams that are almost a match for any big league team in this country. League, the best major league pitcher of the year, is a Cuban.

Mexico is becoming quite enthusiastic about baseball. In the majority of the other countries mentioned, the pastime is still in the experimental stage, though slowly winning popularity.

It is not at all beyond the range of possibility that within five or ten years a world series may reach an ocean trip for one of the two contending teams.

"Bubbles" Hargrave

"Bubbles" Hargrave has been one of the big factors in keeping Pat Moran's Cleveland Redlegs to the front this season. Hargrave's defensive and offensive play has been far superior to that of many other backstops.

Sporting Squibs of All Kinds

University of Maryland will add lawn tennis to its sports calendar.

Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen of France has held the world's tennis title five years.

"I'm going to forget I ever was a fighter," Jess Willard. That ought to be easy.

Battling Siki's real name is Louis Phal. He was born in Senegal, September 16, 1907.

Boston Blue, in the year 1818, is generally conceded to have been the first three-minute trotter.

Four-fifths of the athletic games played throughout the world had their origin in Great Britain.

Buffalo may not be represented in the National three-quarter billiard league during the 1923-4 season.

Duke Kahanamoku, the noted Hawaiian swimmer, at the age of thirty-three is displaying wonderful skill and is now wearing the colors of the Los Angeles A. C.

Horseback swimming is the popular sport at the summer session at the University of Wisconsin. The only equipment necessary is a bathing suit, a horse and bridle.

Charleston, S. C., is credited with having been the first place where golf was played on the American continent. The game was regularly organized in 1794.

Bernon S. Prentice recently won the tennis singles championship of the Southeast (N. J.) Lawn Tennis and Cricket club for the fifteenth time.

John Kuck, eighteen years old, a junior in the high school at Wilson, Kan., who won the highest individual points at the national interscholastic track meet this summer at Chicago, is a remarkable athlete. Kuck has never been coached.

The swimming record for a man, covering 100 yards in 57 seconds, the record for a woman, is 1 minute 6 seconds.

The world's pole vault record is held by Charles Hoff, a Norwegian athlete. The mark is 4.21 meters, or about 12 feet 8 1/2 inches.

Johnstown, Pa., proposes erecting a boxing arena to hold 35,000. It will go up at Ideal park, a bathing beach and amusement park three miles from the city.

INTERESTING SPORT NOTES

Johnny Dundee, champion featherweight boxer of the world, received $12 for his first fight.

The record for the running broad jump is 25 feet 3 inches. The original record was 17 feet 4 inches.

Milford Carl of New Haven, Conn., holds the women's world record for pole vaulting—7 feet 2 inches.

In Los Angeles, where 750,000 persons live, 100,288 played golf last year over the city's municipal course.

If charity boxing bouts continue, it will become necessary to print the pugilistic news in the society columns.

There are eighty-five municipal golf courses throughout the United States.

Another reason why so many logical contenders for fight titles appear all at once is because the public is biting well.

Athletes at Oxford university, England, are entirely in the hands of the undergraduates. There are no paid coaches.

The failure of the Detroit Tigers to get anywhere this year may be explained by ails for injuries to players and all that, but all the ails in the world can't account for the almost complete collapse of the Philadelphia Athletics.

PLAN METHOD FOR TAKING CARE MEN DISABLED BY WAR

International Labor Bureau Makes Unemployment Recommendations.

LEGISLATION SUGGESTED

By HENRY WOOD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
GENEVA, Sept. 21.—With 10,000,000 disabled and disabled men left in the world as a result of the recent great war, experts from all interested governments, acting under the auspices of the International Labor Bureau, have just completed a series of recommendations for common legislation in all countries definitely establishing the economic situation of these men.

A permanent solution of the problem has been rendered necessary by the fact that the number is so great that it constitutes at all times one of the most important elements in every economic situation in every country affected. It is especially one of the most difficult questions to handle in the problem of unemployment, as these disabled men, the market value of whose services have been greatly reduced, are always amongst the first affected by any lack of work.

According to the statistics gathered by the International Labor Bureau, and which gave for the first time a definite idea of the gigantic aspect of this result of the war, the 10,000,000 men disabled, mutilated by the war, and left as more or less of a drag on the world's economic and labor market, are divided amongst the various countries as follows:

Germany, 1,537,000; Austria, 75-
000; Austria, 161,000; Belgium, 50-000; Canada, 45,000; United States, 157,000; Finland, 10,000; France,
1,500,000; England, 1,170,000; Italy,
500,000; Poland, 625,000; Roumania,
100,000; Serbia, 161,000; Russia, 775-
000; Slovakia, 236,000; New Zealand, 20,000.

The remaining 3,000,000 are distributed amongst Turkey, Bulgaria, Japan, Portugal, Hungary, and the Baltic States.

Every one of these 10,000,000 men are at the present time on the pension rolls of their respective states.
Yet, these pensions are not large enough in most cases to provide the necessities of life and virtually all are therefore obliged to keep up active labor competition.

The situation as a whole has become so serious that all of the ex-war countries have unanimously recognized the necessity of the state taking over the situation. It was to secure uniformity of legislation that the government experts summoned by the International Labor Bureau draw up their report on what should be done.

The principal recommendations adopted and which each state will be asked to transform into legislation are as follows:

1.—That all mutilated and disabled soldiers should be provided with productive self-supporting labor entirely independent of their pensions.

2.—That because of the great amount of world wealth consumed by the war, all mutilated soldiers should be utilized to the fullest extent of their productive capacity, instead of maintaining a dead weight on society.

3.—That it is pre-eminently the duty of the state to assume complete responsibility for the means of livelihood and the welfare of its disabled soldiers.

4.—That it is absolutely imperative that each country have recourse to obligatory legislation in order to force employers to accept disabled soldiers in a proportion justified by the labor condition of each country.

5.—That governments must recognize that even temporary obligatory measures for insuring a means of livelihood for these disabled soldiers will not be adequate to provide for them in their old age, and that separate steps must also be taken to that end.

6.—That all legislation, regulations and agreements must be applicable to all men in receipt of pensions, regardless of what methods of recompensation may be adopted under pension legislation.

7.—All such legislation must be made applicable to all undertakings where the number of employees exceeds a minimum limit that shall be fixed in each state.

8.—All such legislation should fix a percentage of disabled men to be employed.

9.—The fact that disabled soldiers receive a pension should in no way count in the wages to be assigned them and these wages, where the economic conditions of the country permit, should be the same as those paid to all workmen.

10.—The legislation to be enacted should protect the disabled soldier fully from wrongful dismissal.

It is expected that the permanent organizations of the disabled in each country shall undertake the task of seeing that such legislation is actually passed and enforced.

Feminine Ways Unfathomable.

"I notice that many of the girls on their way to work carry their hats in their hands," remarked Mr. Brown.
"So I have noticed," replied his friend.

"Why is that?"
"Well, the days are warm. And their hats, I take it, are more or less oppressive," carefully explained friend Jones.

"In that case why do they not leave their hats at home and save all the trouble of carrying them?"
"Now, my friend, you are asking me to follow you into the realms of the unfathomable."

Immense Ore Region in Brazil.

One of the world's greatest iron ore regions is located in the interior of Brazil. The ore-beds are pure and abundant and the only drawback to development lies in the lack of transportation. The natives smelt the ore and fashion it into utensils and farming implements by the crudest process known to modern man. With the abundant waterpower to develop current for electric furnaces, the economic development of this area will soon be solved. Brazil now imports large quantities of iron and steel from other countries.

The Addict.

Among Jimmie Marden's favorite stories is the one concerning two gentlemen who were getting acquainted through the medium of casual conversation.

"Do you play golf?" inquired one of them.

"No," said the other. "but I can't give it up."

Fokker Coming To Look Over U. S. As Field For Passenger Flying

ABOVE, ANTHONY H. G. FOKKER: AIR-ROUTES ON WHICH FOKKER PLANES ARE USED.

NEW YORK—America may soon have a factory for the building of Fokker airplanes. Anthony H. G. Fokker, the 32-year-old Dutch genius of the air, whose planes are now flown on all the network of passenger airlines which now connect all the principal cities of Europe, from London and Stockholm to Moscow, Constantinople and Algiers, is coming to the United States to look over the commercial flying possibilities.

On the London-Amsterdam, London-Paris daily air routes, operated by the K. L. M. Dutch Airline, on which Fokker planes are used, the company is planning its fourth season without a single fatal accident.

SAW METEORITE AS IT FELL

English Field Laborer Within Fifteen Yards of Projectile—Various Minerals in Its Composition.

The British museum recently received a very interesting gift in the form of a meteorite which fell not long ago near Saffron Walden, in Essex.

About one o'clock in the afternoon a laborer in a field at Ashdon heard a hissing sound, which he took to be the noise of an airplane. Looking up, he was astonished to see, not a plane,
but a projectile rushing to the earth.
It struck the ground about fifteen yards away, throwing up the soil all round like water.

The man was so much alarmed that he hurried away, but a day or two later returned to the spot with another man and dug out a meteorite, which was found at a depth of two feet.

It weighs about three pounds, and is five inches long and four inches wide, with a thickness of three inches.
The stone is composed of various minerals and has in it many small particles of iron.

It is an extremely rare occurrence for anyone to see a meteorite actually fall to earth, only fifteen such instances being recorded in the British isles.

Kindly Act Betrayed Burglar.

His fingerprints on a glass in which he had gallantly offered a mild servant a drink of water proved the undoing of a burglar who tried to rob the home of a nunpriest in Pontypridd, Wales. Awakening her with his flashlight, the burglar threatened to strike the girl if she made any noise, but when she said she felt faint he handed her a glass of water, asking where the money and jewels were

AVIARY IN CENTER OF CITY

Every Variety of Bird Known in California Is Said to Be Found There.

An uninclosed aviary exists in the center of a thriving California city.
One block from automobile row, where hundreds of cars are parked, street cars make the life of pedestrians precarious, a family of feathered creatures live in perfect harmony. The rear yard of this unusual city home is covered with oak trees and shrubbery.
An artificial stream runs through its grounds.

Birds of every variety known in California, including the timorous little wild quail that find a haven of safety in twigs, gather on a common feeding ground each morning. The timidity with which the quail enter the family feast is interesting, says Carolus Boone in Our Dumb Animals.
They arrive in pairs. If they were humans we would call them clean-shaven and aggressive. The male quail gives the call to his mate for breakfast and if she fails to respond instantly he shows great impatience with her deliberate ways. After they have finished their meal they adjourn in pairs to some low roof and apparently talk over the day's program.

Bluejays have proved the most avaricious, while the smaller bird family is meek and gracious. The trees and shrubbery are filled with the nests of the jays and the cry of the babies can be heard until their mouths are filled. A close study of the quail and the affection that they show for each other would lessen the desire of hunters to slay these most appealing feathered friends.

WATCH FOR BABY PLANETS

Experts at the Naval Observatory Constantly at Work Taking Calculations and Photographs.

Those who imagine that astronomy is a finished science will be astonished to learn that at the naval observatory there are daily calculations and photographs taken of tiny planets whose number is not yet ascertained. These, called asteroids, spin about in our solar system like was heads each in its own orbit, but follow in between the track of Mars and that of Jupiter.

Studying these asteroids and discovering new ones is the work of photographic-telescopes. The finest instruments are those in the possession of the naval observatory, and are the work of George Peters. In taking neg-atives there is a new exposure about once a minute, so that the course of the planet, or rather asteroid, is plainly shown by successive negatives.

These negatives are studied under a microscope and then compared with maps of the heavens. If any new little planet or asteroid appears, it is at once named by the discoverer. At present there are more than 700, but the number is increasing every year.
Any day Uncle Sam is likely to catch a new one in his naval observatory not with its magnificent lens. Planet photography is now a specialty.—

Piles

Can't Be Cured From the Outside.

External treatments seldom cure piles. Nor do surgical operations.

The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins swollen.

To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through the stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method.

J. S. Leonard, M. D., set at work some years ago to find a real internal piles remedy. He succeeded. He named the prescription Hem-Roid, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied.

Now Hem-Roid is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It's easy to take, and can always be found at Connellsville Drug Co., who will gladly refund the purchase price in any dissatisfied customer.—Advertisement.

At the Theatres

The Paramount

"THE BLOOD TEST," the feature picture today and tomorrow at this theatre, presents Dick Hatton in an interesting role. "The Blood Test," as its title implies, fairly teems with thrills, and suspense is uppermost throughout its length. Daredevil stunts and the most unexpected obstacles are placed before Hatton for him to conquer and he comes up with colors flying. This story is not devoid of drama, romance or comedy and it will be seen that these attributes are logically and coherently placed and distributed through the theme. The whole five reels are uniform and there are present all those elements which combined, cause a picture to be liked by all. Hatton, already recognized as a stunt man, performs some really clever tricks and eludes many startling situations through his ingenuity and quick-wittedness. "The Blood Test" is a picture which doubtless will be enjoyed by everyone, children and grown folks alike. The entire cast was selected to support Mr. Hatton with the very best talent obtainable. Complementing the cast are Florence Lee, Nelson McDowell, Les Bates and Harry Smith.

The Soisson

"TRUXTON KING"—The drama of an American who saved a throne, provides splendid entertainment today and tomorrow at this theatre. It is a drama of Graustark, weaving in the adventures, comedy and love affairs of an American who saves a throne. The direction, photography and cast are far above the average. Mr. Gilbert's moments of comedy were many and refreshing. His dramatic efforts were convincingly well done. He does some sword fighting, the equal of his blade work in "Monte Cristo." To show that he is an adept at several sports. Ruth Clifford as the sweetheart, equally every occasion. She never gushes, never melts over with sweetness, yet she has a charm that holds the heart interest. Gilbert could not have a better feminine lead. Miss Clifford could not hope to play opposite a more gifted star. Mickey Moore, as the young Prince contributes a nice bit of acting. The rest of the cast is of high standard, the direction well done and the photography praiseworthy. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Dorothy Phillips will be seen in "Slander the Woman."

The Orpheum

"A GENTLEMAN OF LEISURE"—A Paramount picture with Jack Holt in the stellar role, is the leading attraction today and tomorrow at this theatre. Mr. Holt, in the role of Robert Pitt, a wealthy young man, is discovered at night in the home of "Big Phil" Creedon by the latter's daughter, Molly. Pitt has gone there for the purpose of obtaining the girl's photograph—his wager with several friends calling not only for him to secure the picture, but also to have it suitably autographed. Molly's father is a millionaire Deputy Commissioner of Police of New York City, and he chances in as the girl is holding Roger and his companion, "Spike" Miller, at the point of a revolver. Creedon does not doubt Pitt's statement that he followed a burglar into the house, but when the Commissioner sees Pitt's companion, whom he knows to be a crook, he demands that Pitt identify himself or suffer arrest. Pitt gives Paul Tiffany, a jeweler, as reference. Creedon phones Tiffany, who suspects that Pitt has been up to something or other, and, as a joke, denies that the Pitt he knows is in America. This confirms Creedon's suspicions, and the Commissioner accuses Pitt of the theft of the famous Mount diamonds. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Bebe Daniels and Antonio Marino will be seen in "The Exciters."

Shades of Columbus! French War Hero Crosses Atlantic Alone In Thirty-foot Boat

ABOVE: ALAIN J. GERBAULT AND HIS SHIP, THE FIRECREST

NEW YORK—Alone in a 30-foot racing cutter, Alain J. Gerbault, French tennis star, sailed into his harbor at Fort Totten, L. I., Monday after 142 days on the Atlantic. Gerbault traversed the 5,600 miles of sea between Cannes, France, and this country, entirely single-handed. His home is in his boat, the Firecrest, he says. Gerbault was a member of the Lafayette Escadrille during the war as an instructor, and he has won the croix de guerre with four palms and the Legion of Honor. He survived three hurricanes, often going without sleep for three and four days. He lived mainly on potatoes, rice cooked in sea water and tea made of salt water.

His Timely Warning STOP AND THINK Saved Many Lives.

Daniel S. Carey, M. D.
Long a brilliant writer and an American authority on Diseases of the Kidneys.

Hundreds of thousands die of kidney troubles every year and half of that number have one foot in the grave before they even suspect that their kidneys are diseased. Thousands of them could have been saved if Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription 777 had been taken in time. Over forty years as a practicing physician; a keen analyst and a diligent student of diseases of the urinary system is responsible for Marshroot Prescription 777 that tens of thousands whom it has helped believe to be the most effective prescription for kidney and bladder troubles ever written. If your kidneys are sick, inflamed, overworked, rundown, or clogged and need a good cleaning you probably have specks darting here and there before your eyes. Perhaps you have moist palms or clammy feet or dull aches to side or back or it may be your eyes are puffy and dull. All these are symptoms that tell you that your kidneys are not right and in all such cases there is nothing like Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription 777 to speedily put them in good condition. Magical Beautifiers for Women. Women everywhere are trying all kinds of beautifiers, only to find that their effects are transitory. The first requisite of beauty is health. Without it the steps to beauty are useless, dark circles appear beneath them, the complexion becomes sallow, and almost invariably the underlying cause is some ailment peculiar to women. There is a very inexpensive remedy for this condition in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for nearly fifty years has been relieving women from some of the worst forms of female ill. Why not let it restore you to health and beauty and the joys of living?—Advertisement.

AN ACCIDENT.

A young man, springing into an overcrowded moving train, trod on the toes of an old gentleman in a corner seat. "I'm very sorry," he said. Old gentleman (hand behind ear)—Eh? Young Man (more loudly)—I beg your pardon. Old gentleman—Eh-h-h? Young Man (shouting)—I trod on your foot. It was an accident—an accident. Old gentleman (catching last word only)—An accident? You don't say so! Anybody hurt?—London Tit-Bits.

"Oh! Is That So?"
Admiring Lady to Author—Do you ever write on an empty stomach?
Author—No, madam. I've never done any writing.
Lady—Oh, I mean, do you write before breakfast?
Author—Never. I sleep until noon.
Delicately Eliminated.
"How did you get that collectionable Mrs. Bounce out of your dining club? Did you ask her to resign?"
"No, we didn't like to do that; we all resigned except Mrs. Bounce, and then we got together and formed a new club."

Tried Them All.
Misses—June, I've mislaid the key of my escritoire. I wish you'd just fetch me that box of odd keys; I dare say I can find one to open it.
June—It's no use, ma'am. There isn't a key in the house as I fit that desk.—London Punch.

HIS POINT OF VIEW.
Mrs. Knaggs: A woman's millinery should express her character. Now this bird of paradise—

PHEASANTS WARN OF EARTHQUAKES

Seismologist Tells of Peculiar Actions of Birds.

SOUNDS ALARM BY CROWING

Have you a little earthquake prediction in your house?

If not, you should get a pheasant, says Prof. E. Omori, a Japanese seismologist writing in a recent bulletin of the Imperial earthquake investigation committee, according to a Washington dispatch, for this bird is exceedingly sensitive to earth tremors even when so slight as to be unobservable by humans.

Observation of a pheasant in Japan during a period of about three years, in which 23 earthquakes were recorded on delicate instruments, showed that it crowed either before or during every slight shock. In 84 per cent of the cases the bird crowed before the seismologist's instrument recorded the quavers, beating the instrument by as much as eight seconds.

In 20 per cent of the occurrences the bird crowed simultaneously with sensible earthquake motion; and in another 20 per cent of cases the bird crowed when the motion was too slight to be sensible to the observer.

Failed to Crow Once Only.

In only five cases did the pheasant crow after the motion was recorded and only once did he fail to crow at all.

The keen perception of earthquake occurrence by the bird is no doubt due to its acute sense, by which it is enabled mechanically to feel the small vibrations in the preliminary stages of the seismic motion, Professor Omori says.

It is known that earth shocks are preceded by preliminary tremors that are so slight as to be hardly recordable. That the pheasant should be very sensitive and take alarm at the slightest disturbance, either natural or artificial, is probably a condition necessary to its existence, the scientist declares, as the bird with its long pointed tail and comparatively small wings, has no high flying capacity and nests on the ground among the thick undergrowth.

Artificial Shakes Not Felt.

It was observed, however, that the pheasant did not take alarm and crow when the ground was shaken by the passing of cars, heavily loaded trucks or wagons, or other artificial means.

In Japan, Professor Omori writes, there is a general belief that pheasants perceive earthquakes much earlier than humans. Certain animals show symptoms of terror at the time of, or previous to, an earthquake, he adds, and cites several occasions when the musical crowing of frogs in a pond ceased just before or at the moment of a sensible tremor. If the shock be strong there is caused a general noise, cocks crowing and dogs barking.

A certain abbot was riding a horse near a town that was visited by a strong quake, when suddenly the animal dropped flat on the ground. The rider, who had not yet perceived the shock, attempted to urge the horse to his feet, but all his whipping was in vain until the shaking was over.

IGNORES RADIO COMMANDS

Trained Elephant Refuses to Take Broadcast Orders.

Broadcasting may delight the human being, but it means nothing to an elephant. The other day a British broadcasting company tried to get Indralok of the London zoo interested in radio by having her master, Syed Ali, give her orders through a transmitter, says a London dispatch. Indralok paid no attention to him, although she has known his voice since the days of her youth in India.

Syed Ali shouted his commands through a loud speaker set up in the elephant's stall. He told his pet to "lie down," "get up" and "salute," and to go through her other stunts; but she only waved her great ears and continued to eat peanuts.

In desperation the broadcaster sent a walk over the radio, but Indralok ignored it. Her feet never moved, her massive shoulders remained stiff. Only her jaws were rhythmic, and the peanuts were responsible for that.

FAMOUS SITES ARE MARKED

Blue Plaques and White Letters Put Up in London.

Visitors to places of interest in London, England, and many Londoners themselves, have been surprised lately to find numerous blue plaques with white letters on walls of buildings. These are being put up by the city council to mark the sites of ancient London, and the residences of famous citizens.

One of the most recent ones marks the spot in Chesham from which the Romans measured their miles from London. Residences of Chaucer, Keats, Shakespeare, Tennyson and other prominent citizens of the olden days also have been designated.

Katie and Oscar in Accord. "How is your new maid turning out, Mrs. Jones?"

"I'm afraid Katie holds the same view as Oscar Wilde."

"How do you mean?"

"You know, Oscar on seeing a lady frowning a piece of brick-a-brac exclaimed: 'What unnecessary labor! Dear should never be required. It is the bloom of time!'"—Boston Trust.

AMERICAN EXPLORERS TO EXCAVATE BURIED CITIES

Carnegie Institute Will Send Expedition to Invade Jungles of Mexico and Guatemala.

Carnegie Institute has developed plans for a series of expeditions to excavate the ruins of ancient Maya cities in the hope of revealing the secrets of that buried civilization, says a Washington dispatch to the New York Herald.

The Institute has been sending yearly expeditions for the last decade or so, but the next expedition will start next January and will be the largest and most important archeological venture ever attempted on this continent. Some of the best known scientists of America and Europe will head the various departments of the expedition and their discoveries may ultimately turn present conceptions of primitive history upside down.

Permission has been granted by the governments concerned for the American scientists to investigate ruins of the Maya cities in the jungles of Mexico and Guatemala. Dr. Sylvanus G. Morley, associate of the Institute in Middle American archeology, who has been conducting explorations and studies in middle America for nine years, is now in Yucatan to begin preliminary work of clearing the brush from the group of structures which will form the first study.

No venture in recent years has excited so much interest in scientific circles as the Institute's announcement that it intends to excavate the buried cities of what is generally accepted to have been the first human race to inhabit this continent. Just what the explorers will find no man can predict, but officials of the institution predict that the story buried in the tropical jungles of Mexico promises to become one of the most intriguing chapters in primitive history and to place King "Tut" far in the background.

The Maya civilization, an aboriginal race, flourished on this continent centuries before the coming of Christ. It reached an amazingly high state of intellectual culture for that period and then disappeared with a completeness that has baffled science.

Anti-Sleep Contest Is Staged in Trieste Hall

Trieste. — Music hath soothing charms, but not for the two young Italian merry-makers who came out victors in a recent anti-sleep contest. The contest took place in a ballroom of Trieste, where all the guests, eager for a novel form of entertainment, entered into the game with zest. Women as well as men took part. The conditions were that the contestants should engage in some form of merrymaking all the time and that some one should play slow, and music on the piano.

To keep awake as long as possible under these circumstances was the aim of each contestant. The women gave way to the handsome fellows. One woman fought off sleep for 70 hours, but the winners of the contest were two men, Antonio Corbelli and Ubaldo Monopoli, who after 97 hours, 50 minutes and 11 seconds were still awake and lively.

They Are Do. He told his bride he was quite sure. For him to be the boss was better. But she declared she'd take that job. And so, of course, he had to let her.

Rust-Proof Stoves.

Stoves so frequently rust during the summer months when they stand unused that they are the despair of many a housewife when she attempts to clean them in the fall. Rusting may be prevented by covering the stove with a mixture of chalk and lard and oil which can be readily removed with kerosene or gasoline. Addition of a small amount of soap will make the blacking stick.
